

5. Passion for Peace

John Lennon was a huge influence on Susan growing, up musically and politically. One of her favorite songs of his was "Imagine". She became passionate about the possibility of a better, kinder, and gentler world, praying that someday we humans would evolve to embrace the "Imagine" paradigm.

I've got a passion for peace running through my veins
The world needs healing words, no more war games
Let the violence cease and the mending begin
Forgiveness and release from the belief in sin
Let's build a passion for peace, a passion for peace
We'll build a passion for peace, a passion for peace
May kindness be what we teach the children of today
The time is now, it's within our reach, we can learn the way
Let's build a passion for peace, a passion for peace
We'll build a passion for peace, a passion for peace
Don't let the dark clouds bring you down
Have faith in the love you feel
The tide of fear is turning 'round to a new place on the wheel
A new place on the wheel
Let's build a passion for peace, a passion for peace
We'll build a passion for peace, a passion for peace
