Sallie Ann Robinson and Jenny Hersch are writing a book for Arcadia Publishing's Images of America series entitled "Daufuskie Island 1890's - 1990's" that will be published early next year.

Hundreds of photographs have been contributed by the Daufuskie Island Historical Foundation, island residents, people with Daufuskie ties and professional photographers who have visited over the years.

Research at the DIHF archives and many regional and national historical organizations as well as meetings with subjects of the photographs and their friends and family members have provided enriching and uplifting content for captions and introductory passages.

Sallie Ann and Jenny will present a slideshow including a selection of images from the project accompanied by scintillating Daufuskie stories.
