Code of Ethics

General

The objectives of the NRAI are to promote and encourage the development of shooting sports, to provide drug-free sport and to promote and encourage the development of international relations.

The purpose of this Code is to guarantee that the objectives of the NRAI will be executed in a fair manner without disturbance and to sanction incidents that damage the image of the NRAI activities or bring them into disrepute. NRAI members, teams, officials and members shall participate in NRAI championships and activities in accordance with the standards of ethics, fair play and sportsmanship established by the NRAI Statutes, Rules and Regulations and by this Code. This Code recognizes basic standards for fair play and moral behaviour and procedures for judging and sanctioning violations of those standards.

Application of the code

The following incidents or offences shall be subject to the application of this Code:

- Acts of discrimination in violation of the Constitution of the NRAI.
- Acts of misconduct, misbehaviour or harassment including, but not limited to abusive, violent conduct in a disturbing, disorderly or provocative manner, unjustified interference, deliberate obstruction of the orderly conduct of any sporting event, malicious alteration, damage or destruction of property or the infliction of physical or mental harm on others.
- Cheating including, but not limited to doping, manipulation of equipment or scores to give an advantage to an athlete or to a team, falsification or alteration of documents indicating false age, nationality, gender or other information, with the purpose of obtaining unfair advantage for an official, an athlete or a team.
- Firing or attempting to fire more than the number of shots allowed by the competition rules.
- Acts of indiscretion, insubordination or partiality.
- Ethical offences may be considered independent of any action taken or not taken by NRAI competition Officials.
- The participants shall be responsible for their own actions.

National Rifle Association, MNSCI Grounds, Derrymore, Blueball Tullamore Co. Offaly

Participants may not:

Induce, instruct or encourage any participant to breach any of the established offences;
Provide or receive any gift, payment or other benefit in circumstances that might reasonably have been expected to bring the athlete or the sport into disrepute;
Fail to disclose information to the NRAI or any other competition authority (without undue delay) full details of any approaches, invitations to engage in conduct, or incidents that would amount to a breach of these rules or other rules pertaining to that specific competition;
Fail to cooperate with any reasonable investigation carried out by the NRAI, including failure to provide any information and/or requested documentation, including records relating to the alleged breach knowingly assist, cover up or otherwise be complicit in any acts previously described committed by a participant. The participant shall be treated as having committed such acts himself and shall be liable accordingly.

Sanctions

- Any member of the NRAI, team or individual covered by this Code may be sanctioned by the NRAI Disciplinary Committee

- A sanction shall be applied if the Disciplinary Committee decides after hearing the alleged offender that a violation of this Code has been committed.

- In the imposition of any sanction, the nature of the offence, the circumstances under which it occurred, the gravity of the offence, the character of the action and other considerations that are in harmony with the objectives of the NRAI must be taken into consideration.

The following sanctions may be imposed:

- a) Warning;
- b) Fine;
- c) Cancellation of competition results;
- d) Disqualification from competitions in progress;
- e) Temporary or permanent bans on future shooting sports activities;
- f) Return of rewards,
- g) Reimbursement of caused material damage or reimbursement of costs incurred by fellow competitors.
