

Hi Phil,
Your planning ability has certainly improved!

When you're at Stoke ask the taxi driver to take you to Haywood Hospital off High Lane just past Smallthorne (I imagine about a 15 / 20 minute drive). In Haywood Hospital reception (please drop me texts of your progress) you'll need to ask for getting to Broadfield Road Ward and I will meet you there.

If you're lucky none of the Stoke savages will have robbed, beaten or butchered you.

See you in a bit, Dave

Good morning Dave,

I am booked on the train arriving in Stoke at 13:48, so, providing I don't get waylaid by marauding Stoke fans still celebrating from Tuesday night, I should be at the hospital just after 2.

See you later.

Regards

Phil

Hi Phil,

Thursday would still be fine. - please tell me you can claim the train fare back as I know it's very expensive. I may even get out of here (hospital) altogether next week as I'm getting much better so don't do anything financially rash else I will delight in always reminding you of your largesse.

Cheers, Dave

Hi Dave,

Are you still o.k. for Thursday? If so, I'll arrange my train tickets. I hadn't realised that you have to pay to go to Stoke. You would have thought that they would pay people to visit.

Regards

Phil

Hi Phil,
Next Thursday (29th) would be fine by me.

Hopefully by then I will have ceased coughing up infectious, toxic waste over everybody who has the misfortune to be in the same room as me.

Best regards, Dave

Good morning Dave,
Looking at my calendar, Thursday 29th October looks a good day to visit you (not that any day is good to visit Stoke). Is that convenient for you?
Regards
Phil

Forgot to answer your questions.... In Stoke We let anybody in, in any physical condition. So you SHOULD make it 🍀

Cheers, Dave

Hi Phil,
Perhaps you've under estimated the outstanding attractions of Stoke, I am determined that at the very least you should sample a 'bacon and cheese oatcake'. Please Google it.

Next week or the following would be fine for a visit as well as PS and / or JP making it too.

LA PKI - sounds like I need to get better real quick as we have a lot on to get you to a retirement phase. 🍀

All the best, Dave

Good morning Dave,

Yes, I was thinking about making a trip up north before the winter weather sets in. It would be a nightmare to be stranded in Stoke. John P[REDACTED] and Paul S[REDACTED] mentioned that they might like to visit as well. Looking at my calendar, either next week or the following week look possible. I'll check Paul and John's availability and get back to you. Do I need a passport and vaccinations?

Retire? If only. You wouldn't believe all the additional work being dropped on me. The latest is the LA PKI for Mobility.

Regards

Phil

Hi Phil,

When I saw Ruth yesterday I learned you'd been in touch about a potential visit oop North. That would be lovely if it was possible but I don't want you to get messed about too much.

I'm actually in a Stoke-on-Trent hospital rather than Stafford. I'm about a mile from Vale Park - talk about insult to injury! A natural path would be a Richard Branson train from Euston to Stoke and then a taxi from there. Visiting hours are 14.15 to 16.00 - I imagine the evening slot wouldn't be in favour as the Midland zombies might pounce on your weak southern self!

Anyhow, nice to drop a line and any further comms would be best on email rather than text if that works for you?

If you can make it up - great. If not, then all the best anyway and one day you WILL actually get to retire and Spurs win the league (which might happen first?).

Cheers, Dave

From Text

Great news that you are on the way to recovery. I've never mastered texting.

The projects still ambling along and will not be finished until well into next year.

I'll try to arrange a visit if I can find out where Stafford is.

Regards

Phil
