

Connor Sabo Fishing Reports for September 12, 2017 at 6:04am #1

I've recently been stuck in logging camp and will be for the next couple months but i will keep trying to provide reports as much as I can!

I've been able to sneak out the odd night after work and go look for Coho and crab. The fishing for us has been slow but we are limited in time and the distance we can go.

I've heard the rest of the Douglas Channel has been producing lots of salmon and bottom fish!

Connor Sabo Fishing Reports for September 12, 2017 at 6:05am #2

I got a few days off from work and with it being early September I knew the Skeena Tributaries should have a good number of Coho in them and I wasn't wrong!

I managed to get 2 days of fishing in before the big rain fall that blew everything out! and definitely ruined my days off! The first day I was out I managed to hook and land 10 Coho but nothing of great size.

The next day you could tell the fish had moved through as there were not near as many splashing around. I ended up landing 4 and losing a big one! It's looks to be a promising fall fishing season!

Would you like to catch fish like this in this time period? If so, you may want consider booking with a fishing guide who can show you how? I know all the best guides; just contact me Csabo@connorsabofishingreports.ca anytime and I will set it up for you...

Stay tuned, more reports coming soon...