

2015GSFL ROUNDTABLE
September 5		September 6
Time	Saturday		Sunday
7:00-7:45	Registration		Registration
7.45-8:00	Session Opening: I.M. Nick (University of Cologne: GERMANY)		Session Opening: I. M. Nick (University of Cologne: GERMANY)
8:00-9:00	Guest Speaker: Dominic Watt (University of York: UK) Anyone for menace? Investigating phonetic and perceptual cues in authentic and simulated threat speech		Guest Speaker: Isabel Picornell (QED Limited: UK) The Lying Dance: The flexible truth of deception cues
9:00-10:00	Guest Speaker: Gea De Jong-Lendle (Marburg University: GERMANY) To do, or not to do a voice parade.		Guest Speaker: Stefan Holgersson (Linköping University: SWEDEN) Intended and unintended misleading information: The role of information communication technology in misleading information in and from a police department
10:00-10:30	Coffee Break		Coffee Break
10:30-11:30	Guest Speaker: Anne Lise Kjær (University of Copenhagen: DENMARK) The discursive implementation of human rights law by the Scandinavian supreme courts		Guest Speaker: Elisabeth Carter (Bucks New University: UK) Exploring the interactional construction of suspects' lies and deceptions in the police interview and examining their eventual confessions through this lens
11:30-12:30	Paper 1a: Olu Popoola (Aston University: UK): Assessing the veracity of children's recantation of sexual abuse disclosures	Paper 1b: Karen McAuliffe ( University of Exeter: UK ) The value of 'interdisciplinarity' in law and language: A case study of the court	Paper 1a: Grace Sullivan (Georgetown University: USA) In your own words: Intertextuality in the George Zimmerman trial  Paper 1b: Marco Büchler, Maria Moritz, Greta Franzini, Emily Franzini (Göttingen Centre for Digital Humanities: GERMANY) Probleme und Herausforderungen von Text-Reuse-Erkennung auf großen Datenmengen

12:30-13:30	Lunch Break	Lunch Break	Lunch Break	Lunch Break
13:30-14:30	Paper 2a: Guusje Jol (Radboud Universiteit Nijmegen: THE NETHERLANDS) 'How do you know?' Questioning the status of knowledge in police interviews with child witnesses	Paper 2b: Karen McAuliffe (University of Exeter: UK) Funding opportunities for students and emerging scholars interested in FL/FP	Paper 2a: Tanya Christensen (Copenhagen University: DENMARK) Layers of deception: The Penkowa case	Paper 2b: Ylva Byrman (Gothenburg University: SWEDEN) Translating the suspect's story into institutionally relevant categories: Investigative interview documentation in tax fraud investigations
14:30-15:30	Paper 3a: Jonas Lindh (Gothenburg University/ Voxalys AB: SWEDEN) Forensic speaker comparison evaluations	Paper 3b: Kirsty Blewitt (Newcastle University: UK) Exploring the interactions between the state and the individual in legal settings.	Paper 3a: Karoline Marko (University of Graz: AUSTRIA) Idiolect ransom demands: A sociolinguistic analysis for linguistic profiling	Paper 3b: Ria Perkins (Aston University: UK) Share if you agree: The linguistic features and persuasive elements of viral messaging
15:30-16:30	POSTER SESSION I <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>G. Axer (Aston Univ.: UK) Do we talk the same in two languages?</li> <li>V. Guillén-Nieto (Univ. of Alicante: SPAIN) Textual kidnapping</li> <li>U. Lohner (Cologne Univ.: GERMANY) The influence of trauma on the complexity of emotive language: A case study</li> </ul>		POSTER SESSION II <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>I. Nick, S. Blackwell, &amp; J. Shapero (GERMANY/UK) Practical and ethical considerations in building a corpus of suicide notes</li> <li>A. Koutsiafti (Aston Univ.: UK) The Sony Hack case</li> </ul>
16:30-17:30	Paper 4a: Dana Roemling (Düsseldorf University: GERMANY) Don't read the comments: Pejorative linguistic reactions to Conchita Wurst's Eurovision win from a legal perspective	Paper 4b: Sune Søndberg Mortensen (Roskilde University: DENMARK) Epistemic stance taking in Danish courtroom interaction	Paper 4a: Tatiana Prokofyeva (Verified AB: SWEDEN) Language use in two types of suicide texts	Paper 4b: Victoria Guillén-Nieto (University of Alicante: SPAIN) Who write the complaints? A case of questioned joint authorship

17:30-18:30	Robert Leonard (Hofstra University: USA ) Words on trial, re-visited: The Hofstra Forensic Linguistics Capital Case Innocence Project	Paper 5a: Iman Nick (University of Cologne/University of Liverpool: GERMANY) Voices from the edge: A corpus linguistic analysis of suicide letters written by first-responders and non-first-responders	Paper 5b: Emilia Lindroos (University of Lapland:FINLAND) Defamation as a linguistic crime: The application of law and legal argumentation in Finland
18:30-19:00	SHORT BREAK BEFORE WALKING TO THE RESTAURANT	(18:30-18:45) Closing Session: Iman Nick (University of Cologne: GERMANY)
19:00	GSFL Roundtable Dinner in a Local Restaurant (Meeting in the Lobby of the Intercity Hotel at 19:00)	(18:45-19:45) GSFL Executive Council Meeting (OPEN TO ALL GSFL MEMBERS)
19:30	CONFERENCE DINNER		