Learn the Ins & Outs of trialing in Obedience with Cher Lee

February 8, 2025 1:00 PM - 4:00 PM

Cher Lee has been training dogs for over 3 decades and has been an instructor for over 20 years. She began her journey into competitive obedience as a 4-Her and hasn't looked back since. She fell in love with the Belgian breeds but has been captivated by Tervurens since 2004. She and her Novice A dog, Woodlawn My Guy Heartnsoul traveled well over 300,000 miles and 10 years in pursuit of his UD title.

Her newest trialing partner, a Norwegian Buhund name Kevlar (aka Kevie) have recently begun their journey with Kevlar easily earning his Beginner Novice (BN) title easily at 18 months. Their foundation has been set for their future of “Dog & Handler team number xxx come on in... Are you ready?”

From filling out entries, deciding what classes are the best for you and your dog, to those little handler errors that add up to big pencil marks on the score sheet, Cher will walk us through the most common errors to watch out for.

Topics will include

- Utilizing the Preferred & Novice Classes
- Training & warm-ups on the trial grounds
- Training & Handling in the ring, the “Fix n Go”
- Judge’s discretion on penalties and scoring
- Handling between exercises
- Discussion on the exercises for each level
