

BIOGRAPHIES

Candace Hilderbrand began as the face of PHOAC over 3 years ago. Her sweet demeanor and determination to excel promoted her into her current position of Onsite Assistant Community Association Manager. Candace quickly learned the fundamentals of association management during her time as Receptionist at PHOAC, which created the framework for her duties at Crown Hills Homeowners Association.

Prior to her employment with PHOAC, Candace was an Executive Assistant at a large utility firm in San Diego, CA. Attention to detail and assistance with rigorous requirements at her previous employer helped Candace become the asset she is today to PHOAC.

When not responding to the needs of the residents with her portfolio of communities, she enjoys being a loving mother to her two young children, which are the center of her world. Play dates, afternoons at the beach and time with her children are what Candace lives for.
