The Guccie Times has conducted investigation and it is reported that there is a rumor in the ghettos of NYC. It has been said that Paul Gambino, of the Velvet mafia in Chicago, has committed suicide after seeing his books burned in Times Square within the last couple of days. We set out to clear this with Mr. Guccione.

GT: Mr. Guccione, can you tell us anything about the suicide of Paul Gambino?

JG: It’s just a rumor. The copy could never lose him. He’s too powerful and influential to the citizens of Chicago as well as NYC.

GT: But they said the cops let them have a bonfire in Times Square and they burned all of the books of the Paul Gambino mafia.

JG: You’d have to show me camera footage of it. I can’t support that claim.

GT: We see.

(pause)

GT: We understand that you do not discuss politics, but may we ask you one question?

JG: Sure.

GT: The American people have been inquisitive: it seems that President Trump is one of the most controversial presidents in US History. He recently published his Trump Dynasty. Some have claimed him to be the antichrist and say he is mastering the poor of America. What is your opinion about President Trump?

JG: It’s the copy’s fault. Trump good with money. I do not think Mr. Trump hates the poor. As a matter of fact, I think he wants to help them. He just wants a capitalistic society so that people do not get lazy.

GT: Mr. Guccione, it is our understanding that porn huts and strip joints are returning the militia billions at the expense of the American people’s dignity. It has also been said by some Christian organizations that these vices are turning our youth to aggressive sex. Can you give us your opinion about this?

JG: It’s the decision of the people. These invitations exist, but you make the decision.

GT: It’s just that some were concerned about your entrepreneurship.

JG: No need to be concerned.

GT: Well, thank you, Mr. Guccione. Enjoy your day.

JG: Likewise.
