

Commitment

Change transformations can often lead to an immediate knee-jerk reaction of resistance – even if the change can be one of benefit.

Change Commitment is about:

- Increasing the chances of successful implementation by making the stakeholders see a need for the change
- Gauging the impact of change on all stakeholders
- Identifying the specific 'what's in it for me' for specific stakeholders