The next painting photo effect in the series is the Watercolor Painting Photo Effect. As the name says, it was created to turn photos into realistic watercolor paintings.

As usual for Picture to People tools, this online paint software generates pieces of art very similar to the real ones that are painted by professional artists. Moreover, the results keep all important informations from the original photos.

This software has several interesting configuration options, so it's possible to generate several styles of watercolor paintings instantly with no effort. See an example below.
