The Silent Revolutions

This issue of the Intelligence Newsletter will be the last issue of this year, the last issue of this century, and the last issue of this millennium. It is time for an assessment of our national position. Remember, this country was founded, made great, and is now decaying. All of this was during only the latter part of this millennium.

There are several Biblical Principles that will be used as we continue with this issue. They are: "But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day." (II Peter 3:8); "For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; And shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables." (II Tim 4:3-4); "Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition (Talmudic law)?" (Mat 15:3);

"Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!"

(Isaiah 5:20-21) "Yet I have left me seven thousand in Israel, all the knees which have not bowed unto Baal, and every mouth which hath not kissed him." (I Kings 19:18); "Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city." (Mat 23:34). "The love of money is the root of all evil." (I Tim 6:10)

Those of us who are old enough will remember the nation our forefathers gave us. Much of it was still like our forefathers developed it. It was a nation of freedoms unparalleled in history. Ours was a free-enterprise society and a man could become anything he set his total determination to do.

It was a government "Of the People, By the People and For the People," one nation under God and it was a White, Anglo Saxon, Protestant government and society. That is history and not intended in any way to be a racist statement. Do you realize that even as late as the 1930's and 1940's the United States had approximately 140 million citizens and the majority were of that definition. Today, we have over 250 million citizens (legal and illegal) but still only about 140 million are of that original stock. Universalism and assimilation have taken their toll on our culture. There is an old saying that states, "Two wrongs do not make a right." We can amplify that to state that one hundred thousand wrongs change a culture but still do not make a right!

The greater majority of Americans lived on farms or worked in farm-related enterprises. There were only a few large cities. Our society worked for five and one-half days and everything closed at noon on Saturday. The remainder of the weekend was reserved for rest, relaxation, prayers and worship.

There were many family-owned manufacturing companies. "Mom and Pop" shops were the normal. Our farms used Biblical methods of farming with rotation, resting the soil, and using natural fertilizers. With that system we could feed this nation with bountiful, nutritious food, and have enough left over to feed large portions of the rest of the world. The rule wasn't to see how big and powerful you could become with "planned obsolescence" built in but rather with the best and strongest possible. We in our family are still using items 50 and 75 years old which still work perfectly.

But we of the older generation must realize that even we do not fully understand just how much more free our ancestors were a mere 100 years before us. It's because we have failed miserably the Principle of II Tim 4:3-4. Reread it and understand it in terms of the secular society. Our people have heard this passage over and over while in church but we have refused to relate it to the secular world around us. Isn't that what the Word of God is for?

We have been involved in a silent revolution for nearly 1000 years and to God, that is like just one day as II Peter 3:8 tells us. Throughout the past fifteen years we here at Christian Crusade for Truth have brought forth historical issues which have shown the growth of this silent revolution. Of course, there have been cycles of good times throughout history but too quickly returning to evil times. The overview of the past 1000 years shows us a slow change from the system of Nobility by birth to that of a Fascist society. The thousand years between Christ and William the Conqueror shows a slow change from the system of "The Way" to that of Nobility by birth. The Word of God, along with common sense and logic, tells us that our task is to return our system of government to that which Christ gave us.

Throughout the past years, our newsletters have shown the millennial-long results of what happened in England in 1066 when William the Conqueror invaded old Saxon England (July-Aug. 1989 issue). He brought his Jewish money lenders with him from Roen, France and together they built that world reknown commercial city in London, known in history as "The City." Succeeding issues have shown the results of Oliver Cromwell's illfated efforts. The later portion of the second millennium has given rise to Fascism. So what really is Fascism?

In modern terms Fascism adheres to the "Philosopher-King belief that only one class-- which is by birth, education, or social standing--is capable of understanding what is best for the whole community and of putting it into practice." That excellent definition is given to us by Joan Veon in her book Prince Charles, The Sustainable Prince. Hearthstone Publishing, PO Box 815. Oklahoma City, OK 731 01,

Of course, that is not exactly what we have been taught as original Fascism. In the beginning it was simply defined as the power of many united and obeying one will and the authority of the state, which was the supreme source of law and order of all national life. That was derived from the collection of many philosophers; the French Jurist Jean Bodin (1530-96) who stressed the importance of the sovereign and the unlimited power of the state for effective government. The English philosopher Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679) saw sovereign power as unlimited by the subjects who have authorized it. Both of these men saw the state as a rational contrivance to lift central authority above religious and civil disputes.

Machiavelli

It was Machiavelli (1469-1527) who believed Christianity to be true but that its stress on meekness and humility would damage the political man, weakening him. Church dogma has always taught that definition because it provided the means to force obedience to the church and the state. That is what is called a "symbiotic" relationship. We all should know by now that meekness in the Bible means obedience to the Laws of God, not a Mr. Milktoast! Machiavelli put his hope into the daring and violence of a great man who would exercise power ruthlessly but with prudence.

The concept which made Fascism popular and even possible came from Gustave Le Bon who taught that crowds obey collective subconscious emotions rather than the rational individuality of their single members, and, therefore, that crowds are highly susceptible to manipulation by leadership that can arouse in them heroism or savagery of which the individual alone would be incapable. He taught that endless reiterated statements rather than rational thought influenced public morality. In Le Bon's teachings we can recognize the modern techniques of mass communications, government actions, church dogma and sociology. Address the emotions instead of the reasoning. Repeat over and over simple phrases which "tickle the ears."

With that brief and simplified background for Fascism we can readily see that there needs to be a "mantra" which is the endless reiteration of a word until it becomes sacred. So, what is that mantra which this new breed of Fascists have chosen? There are several concepts of Fascism currently in use but for this issue we will explain the results of using the word "ENVIRONMENT."

A man named Fritz Schumacher wrote about this spiritual mantra when he stated, "Human scale thinking must have a spiritual content. We have to put back what our dominant industrialist-materialist-scientific world view leaves out. The omitted area is what we mean by spiritual." He is referring to the environment and he believes it to be the "mantra" which they can use to develop their breed of Fascism. But as we shall see, it becomes another form of monopoly very similar to the one that the fascist system called Communism created. Who totally controlled all of the factories, schools, government, churches, farms, ranches, waterways, etc.? It was the Communist Party, of course. Who had the only big, expensive limousines and the villas on the Black Sea? The Communist bosses, of course! Communism was created by "Philosopher Kings" who thought that they were the only ones who knew what the people needed. It is a classical fascist system. These Environmentalist Philosopher-Kings are nothing but Fascists.

What do we repeatedly hear, read and see, with endlessly reiterated statements directed solely to the emotions with no reasoning whatsoever? It is environmentalism. We hear of the ozone holes in the upper atmosphere. How do they know that the ozone holes are increasing and getting larger? We only found out about ozone holes with the advent of the space shuttles and their newly invented techniques to measure such things. We hear about a huge carbon dioxide problem because of the burning of fossil fuels. They make no mention that trees, grasses, and all green farm crops use carbon dioxide in the photosynthesis process. They use carbon dioxide and create oxygen. So huge amounts of carbon dioxide are absolutely necessary to replenish oxygen.

We hear of global warming by this new breed of Fascists. That endlessly reiterated emotional fallacy has no scientific fact. The field of earth sciences has been able to measure the slow warming trend following the "mini-ice age" of the 14th and 15th centuries. Within the succeeding centuries there have been periods of small increases of temperature followed by periods of decreasing temperature. They also predict more "mini-ice ages" in the future and perhaps another major ice age.

Every one of us is for a clean environment. Early America, with its rural society, had to genuinely love and be close to the environment. There can be no argument that the farming practices of those years did not cause the pollution as does modern society. There is no question but that modern industry has caused increased smoke emissions from their plants. However, with amazing technological advances such emissions are a small fraction of what existed a short thirty years ago. Pass by any fossil fueled power plant today. One will see steam (water) coming from the cooling towers but nothing coming out of the smoke stacks.

This new breed of fascists have simply used this clean, good word environment and have used it for evil. (Isa 5: 20-21) They would have us believe that they are "for motherhood and against sin!" But there is much more to their agenda than the environment. There is money to be made from their actions--huge amounts of money--to go into the pockets of these "philosopher kings" who believe that because of their birth, education or social standing (money), consider themselves to be the only ones who have the right to the nation's wealth.

Who is to pay the bills? It is the "little man," the farmer, rancher, logger, small miner, home owner, small business operator, factory worker. Even though this system of plunder is world-wide with the advent of the United Nations, it is the United States who will fund it.

It is a simple task for them to take their mantra (the environmental question) to very wealthy philanthropic individuals and foundations, churches, schools, the media, movies and government at all levels to become a part of their revolutionary movement. It truly becomes a spiritual event. There are families who become so wrapped up in this that they give their property to the cause.

Children attend schools where they learn such fallacies as that the colossal Mississippi River Delta was caused by the misuse of the land by these Anglo Saxon, Protestant farmers in the water-shed of that river. That same area is truly the bread basket of the country. If only we would analyze this fallacy. It took thousands of years to accomplish the Mississippi Delta. The great explorers Rogers and Clark found the same rivers in the same condition as we see them today. The great delta at the outlet of the Mississippi was there when Jackson whipped the British at New Orleans in the war of 1812. The White Man had just started to settle the Mississippi watershed. Instead of following in the footsteps of these so-called environmentalists (more on that point later) and parroting their words that the white man has destroyed the world, we should become incensed enough to take back our country!!!

But the endless and repetitious emotional statements create a frenzy in the minds of some of the public, particularly those who live in the city and have no knowledge whatsoever of rural life, its problems and conditions. They become so emotionally involved that they readily join organizations such as the Sierra Club, The Wildlife Federation, Planned Parenthood, the Nature Conservancy, The Greens, Earth First. These are the so-called "education groups" of the trilogy of "birth, education and social standing" making up this Fascist system.

As members of these organizations, they pay dues, of course, but this is just for outward impressions. Huge sums of money are given to them by corporations such as Exxon, Johnson Wax, 3M, Black and Decker, Ted Turner's empire, and Giant Foods along with the nation's well know Foundations. This is just a small sampling of the sources of money available to them.

Books are written on the subject of the environment. One well known one to all of us is Al Gore's book The Earth In Balance. It's available in all of the bookstores. This book is nothing but an explanation of the concept of "Gaia. the goddess of the earth." The families of Al Gore, Jr., his father, ex-Senator Al Gore Sr. and Armand Hammer, the Communist industrialist, were life-long friends. With that we can bring into this fascist picture, "the right by birth."

Al Gore

Armand Hammer was a very close friend of Prince Charles of Britain. Prince Charles is also a devout believer in the Goddess Gaia concept. Prince Charles introduced Armand Hammer to Lord Louis Earl Mountbatten. Mountbatten had been the first president of the International Council of United World Colleges. Lord Mountbatten made this statement to Armand Hammer, "I witnessed the horrors of two world wars, and I came to the conclusion that, if we were ever to have peace in the world, we would have to start with young people of an impressionable age who would learn to live together regardless of their nationality, or religion, or their ideology."

Such a statement is nothing but a repeat of what has been tried many times, starting at the Tower of Babel in the Bible. Mountbatten is referring, of course, to a One World Government, a One World People and a One World Religion.

Mountbatten's statement brings us to another point in this new breed of Fascism. He refers to a one world government, a one world people and a one world religion. That is the same thing that Alexander the Great tried in 230 B.C. It didn't work then and it won't work now. The Bible tells us of the other times when it was tried and God wouldn't permit it. Praise Him for it and we have His authority to fight this beast!

Prince Charles, along with Lord Mountbatten and Armand Hammer are only a very few of the very large group who are a part of this fascist revolution which is growing and becoming more totalitarian as it grows.

Lord Mountbatten was the first president of the International Council of United World Colleges. There is one here in the United States, at Las Vegas, NM. It opened in 1982 and it was made possible by Armand Hammer. Prince Charles, Armand Hammer, along with several American government officials dedicated the opening of that One-World Socialist College. Prince Charles was its first president! Presently, Queen Noor of Jordan and Nelson Mandela of South Africa are co-presidents! One has to do a lot of reading to find out what is going on behind closed doors, so to speak!

We have shown that considerable money is donated to these Fascist environmentalist organizations. The Nature Conservancy, for example, has over 100 million dollars at its disposal, with which to destroy private property ownership. The other organizations have nearly equal amounts in banks.

This trilogy of the "educated class" (including most of the colleges and universities), multinational corporations, and nobility coming together make a team. With that money, political power and "educated" influence, they have become what is known as "Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO's)". This concept was developed by the United Nations in what is called the "United Nations Development Program (UNDP)". The United States, being a part of the UN, is allowing these Non-Governmental Organizations to operate here in this country. They do not have voting rights as such in Congress but their statements carry the weight of prestige and authority such that Congress bows down to them, totally. Later, in this issue, there will be a statement by Sovereignty International regarding this.

With this arrangement, there is money in unprecedented quantities to feed the congressional election coffers, plus anywhere else they can quasi-legally stuff money into their pockets. This monstrous symbiotic relationship is born between the United Nations, the U.S. Government, business, nobility, Talmudism, colleges and the "wannabe" educated class. This arrangement is not a Biblical concept but it is in complete accordance with the Talmud, thus we included that concept as a member of the illegal consortium.

The government at all levels, including the states and counties, stretch the constitutionality by making this arrangement into what is called a quasi-government status where they can freely enter into government procedures and give their "expert" opinions on what needs to be done to the people's national forests, the people's rivers, the people's national parks, the people's private property.

With the blessings of their quasi-governmental status, they take junkets all over the country and make magical spot evaluations of what needs to be done to remake America into their image, into the image of the "Goddess Gaia."

They search out wet areas which have been caused by recent excessive rains. They call it a "wet-lands" area and start the process of having it confiscated. Many, many Americans can attest to this treatment. They travel the stream beds, both on public lands and private lands which have been used to water livestock for generations. They consider this to be what they call a "riparian" area and it must be fenced off from domestic animals. Only game animals are allowed to water there.

They run to Congress, or the State Land Commissioner, state their demands, put some money in the re-election funds and go home waiting for some more families to have their livelihood destroyed.

They have two things which are of such magnitude that they, alone, are reasons enough for the American people to counter with massive action against them. First, they have thrown away the Holy Bible of our religion which is the only purpose for our existence. They have replaced our Bible with the "bible" of the Goddess of the earth--Gaia.

Then, in replacing our Bible with theirs they have reversed the roles plainly expressed in Genesis One and Two. In Genesis One, starting in verse 24, "And God said, let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the earth after his kind: and it was so. And God made the beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

"And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

The Goddess Gaia and its bible reverses those roles. Animals and birds and fish are to have dominion over man. We have the spotted owl having dominion over ranchers and loggers. We have the snail darter and other ill-defined fish having dominion over man. We have wolves, mountain lions, and all sorts of animals having dominion over man. They stay and multiply, we go. They introduce them into an area. They multiply and we go.

In the September-October, 1999 issue of World Concerns, published by Sovereignty International, PO Box 191, Hollow Rock TN, we find this assessment: "In its first Human Development Report, issued in 1990, the United Nations Development Program (UNDP) said 'The purpose of development is to create an enabling environment for people to enjoy long, healthy and creative lives. Globalization offers great opportunities-but only with stronger governance.' This admission contains the very reason most of the world lives in poverty.

"This admission presumes, or perhaps, aspires to the authority to 'create' and appropriate environment for people. Herein lies the fundamental, fatal flaw, which, in fact, has been the chief obstacle to prosperity and first cause of poverty.

"Until America, people were constrained by their governments which had the authority and power to 'create' an appropriate environment. America's founders rebelled against that authority and created a form of governance which had no authority not specifically granted to it by the consent of the governed. America's government was designed to have no authority to constrain its citizens beyond their expressed consent to be constrained. In 200 short years, America out-developed all the nations on earth.

"Development is a consequence of prior action. In America, development is the consequence of free people doing whatever they wish in pursuit of individual happiness. The result is the most prosperous society the world has ever known. People who have the misfortune to live in societies where the government has the authority to 'create' an appropriate environment for them, suffer from the whims of the current authority. The current status of any nation dramatically demonstrates the consequences of prior actions taken by the government to 'create' the environment the government thought to be appropriate for the people.

"Also inherent in the UNDP's 'development' aspirations, is the quest for equity. Equity is unnatural and self-defeating. Nowhere in nature is equity to be found. Eagles fly higher than blue jays; dolphins kill babies to free a mother to become a sex target; rabbits breed by the billions to become bounty for hungry predators. In nature, species, and individual members of species, must work out their own salvation. Humans must learn to do the same. No government enterprise can determine what is the 'appropriate' environment for five billion people.

"Equity is achieved only when two or more individuals make an agreement which each party believes to be mutually beneficial. There is no equity when an outside authority creates the conditions to which each party must conform. American prosperity was built on such agreements. The United Nations, and the UNDP in particular, aspire to be the outside authority which creates the conditions to which all individuals and all nations must conform in order to achieve what it thinks is the 'appropriate' environment for the 21st century.

"Peace occurs only when individuals are at peace with one another. Anything less is not peace. Governments may be able to separate individuals for a time; that's called an enforced truce, but not peace. Individuals must work out their own differences. So too, must nations. An outside authority, such as the United Nations, cannot simply enforce a truce among nations and claim world peace. World peace cannot come until nations voluntarily reach mutually beneficial agreements.

"The UN's quest for global governance can result in neither peace, nor equity. It certainly cannot create prosperity. It can postpone conflict, for a time. It can take from those who have wealth and give it to those who do not, until those who have, are brought to equity with those who have not. But global governance can never create prosperity; it can only prevent it. Prosperity is the result of individuals succeeding in their pursuit of happiness. A nation's prosperity is measured by the number of individuals who succeed in their pursuits, not by the taxes extracted from the citizens.

"The United Nations was thought to be a place where nations could gather to work out their differences, to reach voluntarily, mutually beneficial agreements, to seek peace and prosperity. It has failed in that mission. Instead, it has tasted the sweet wine of power, and has become addicted to the notion that all will be well if only there is more of it. Should the UN, with its myriad agencies, ever gain the authority to 'create' the environment in which people are required to conform to its vision of equity, the result will be global oppression, and global poverty." (End of comments by Sovereignty International).

There are "cracks" in this Non- Governmental Organization's operation. It is because of another Biblical principle. "The love of money is the root of all evil." (1 Tim 6:10). The environmentalists have become extremely powerful in their Non Governmental Organization status. This is because of the enormous amounts of money donated to them by the multinational corporations. Of course, the multinational corporations donate because of their tax benefits for doing so.

The environmentalists are stealing private property from our citizens. They now have approximately 1.3 billion dollars worth of property which has been taken because of their violating the Constitution. More on this shortly.

These corporations may even believe in an extra clean environment for the United States, at least when they are forced to believe that by the establishment. But they don't believe that the environment is at all important when they take their operations to some foreign country like China, Indonesia, Mexico, etc. They do this because of the cost of labor. In China, for example, they pay seventy cents per hour for their labor to do the same work that takes seven dollars and fifty cents in the United States. In these other countries they don't have to worry about a clean environment. They are not required to clean up their smoke emissions or the water they discharge into the rivers. Consequently, the pollution in these countries is now the highest in the world, by a large margin.

Thus, they have "cracks" in their agreements! That is what the huge demonstrations in Seattle were all about. The World Trade Organization was there in an attempt to expand, not contract, the world wide use of these multinational corporations. The environmentalists were there demonstrating because of the violations in the environment and such things as sea turtles. This is in keeping with the Goddess Gaia concept. Also in Seattle demonstrating against the World Trade Organization were those fighting the total disregard for the working man here in the United States.

The entire situation is untenable to the United States citizen who is trained in manufacturing processes. The only thing left for him is the service sector, turning hamburgers at MacDonalds or clerking at a store, selling goods made in China.

These citizens, once the backbone of America's productive might, are not stupid. They read, see and hear the daily news about how the stock market seems to have no end in going up. They don't have the money to get a piece of that action while working at close to minimum wages. The government keeps telling them that there are jobs going begging-- but not in the fields of their experience nor in their communities where they have their roots. How many adult couples are in a position to sell their property, pack up and go elsewhere? Their children are established in school. There is the cost of retraining. And all of this is to be a part of a system which they know that history tells them will not last.

Again, from Sovereignty International we have this poignant article, written by Henry Lamb, the chairman of that organization. The title is Stealing our Children's Birthright.

"We have been taken in by the propaganda that tells us that our land must be protected from developers, from off-road vehicles, from loggers, from grazers, from commercial farmers, from almost any form of human activity. We allow our governments to use our tax dollars to buy up land. We donate billions to The Nature Conservancy, and more than 1,200 similar organizations, to buy the private property that remains, all in the name of protecting the environment.

"What we are doing is depriving our children, and all future generations, of the opportunity to be free.

"Governments now own about 40 per cent of all the land in the United States. The rush to create new land acquisition funds sets no limits on how much land is to be acquired. The stated goal of many of the environmental organizations that promote land acquisition is; 'take it all back.'

"Think about it for a moment. What will our children do when they want to live in the suburbs, if the government, or The Nature Conservancy owns the land? Government, through its 'Sustainable Communities Initiative,' has determined that people should not live outside the 'urban sprawl limit.' It doesn't matter what our children want; government will dictate where they may live. To get a picture of the future in America, look at the past in Russia, where the government owned all the land. Government ownership of land is the first requirement of every socialist society.

"How are our children going to buy gasoline for their cars, if the government owns the land or the right to the oil under it? Most of the land now owned by government and conservancy organizations, prohibits the use of natural resources. More than 40 per cent of our petroleum is imported because the government will not allow the production of oil on land that it owns.

"When government owns all the farmland, farmers will be nothing more than employees of the government, producing the crops the government dictates, for whatever wages the government decides to pay.

"Never in the history of America has there been such a blatant sell-out to socialism. Every acre of land that is sold to the government, or to one of its surrogate conservancy organizations, for 'protection,' is a step closer to inevitable socialism. Every acre the government owns is an acre that will not be available for use by our children.

"Since all wealth begins with the natural resources on and under the land, are we not systematically transferring our nation's wealth from the people to the government and its surrogates? Is that transfer of wealth not depriving our children of any hope of prosperity?

"Congress and state legislatures should demand a moratorium on all land acquisitions by the agencies of all governments. Land and its use is the fountainhead of our prosperity. We are allowing the government to use our tax dollars to deprive our children of both.

"We have been so brainwashed by the constant stream of propaganda that we think there is something immoral about cutting a tree. Our Vice-President insists that driving a car is causing global warming, despite solid scientific evidence to the contrary. The Nature Conservancy wants you to contribute to their 'Last Great Places' campaign, so they can buy more land and transfer the potential wealth it contains from our children to their $1.3 billion balance sheet.

"Think about it. We are allowing them to use our money to buy all the resources that our children will need. We are forcing our children to be beggars. Our children will have to ask the government for a place to live, for a place to work, for almost everything. If the government, or its surrogate organizations own all the resources, they will own the source of virtually all production, the classic definition of socialism.

"Our children cannot see that far ahead, nor can they see backward to the failed five-year plans of the defunct Soviet Union. We can. And it is our responsibility to preserve and protect, not the land, but the freedom to use the land. It is our responsibility to see that those in our government who prefer socialism to freedom are set free from their jobs to seek employment elsewhere.

"The 'Lands Legacy' program announced by our President is little more than a smokescreen to make us feel good about financing the implementing of socialism in America. No more land for the government. No more tax dollars to surrogate conservation organizations that take land out of private use. No more contributions to The Nature Conservancy, or any other government surrogate, that is working to deprive our children of their proper birthright, the land." End of article by Henry Lamb.

But all is not lost. There are other "cracks" in their effort to literally own America as their stated intentions reveal. There is truly a great "counter-revolution" growing in the midst of our people. It is becoming increasingly more powerful and it is comprised mostly of Christians who do not go to any of the 501-C3 Judeo-Christian Churches. They cannot get satisfaction there.

Our people are becoming educated because of the myriad of authoritative books being written which reveal the details. More and more editorials are being written in the local newspapers all over the country. Citizens are gathering together to discuss the issue and to network between the various groups. The country, from coast to coast, is becoming involved.

National Farm Animal groups are becoming involved. They were once dedicated to the status-quo of the combine of the government, state colleges, large equipment manufacturers, oil companies, and banks. That combine was a form of fascism itself and it taught that the farms and ranches should become increasingly larger because that is where the profit is. They never mentioned that it was the combine, not the agriculturist, who became bigger and wealthier.

The same thing is happening in all of the other enterprises making up this nation. Retailers and wholesalers are beginning to realize that the people are boycotting foreign made products. If those enterprises can't sell their foreign made goods, even though it is an American multinational company, they try to provide for those of us who demand American made goods. The old saying is "The squeaking wheel get the grease!" If we could get all Americans to just understand this one issue, the entire fascist systems and "house of cards" would fall.

The multinational corporations would be forced to return home and hire American workers at a decent wage. These corporations in turn would be forced to quit funding the environmentalist fascist system since their ruse of going overseas to obtain cheaper labor would have been exposed. In turn, the land grabs would quit because the Nature Conservancy and the 1200 or so other groups would be denied their money.

The stock market would become more sane in its gyrations. Such huge growth in the stock market is solely because of the cheap labor in foreign countries. The World Trade Organization \(WTO\) is attempting to even increase this system; thus the demonstrations in Seattle. The sad part of this is that otherwise decent American citizens are using the stock market now to make money from this Fascist system. Somehow they can't seem to realize that they are destroying their American dream and that they are violating a principle of God. "Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us. For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

*"Neither did we eat anyman's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you: Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat." (II Thess. 3:6-10) James Michner in his book Iberia transliterated the old Spanish saying "viva yo" as meaning "hurrah for me, me first!" If we are to follow the great commandment, "Love your neighbor as yourself," (Mat 22:39) we must participate in this great struggle to return to the American dream.*

In Isaiah, chapter one, we are told in verse 16, "Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. in verse 18, "Come now, let us reason together saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow: though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

A covenant is being made with us. If we do our part, along with the thousands out there already working, we will return to the American dream. If we remain silent, this Fascist system will grow even more powerful. Did you notice the excesses in the police action in Seattle? It can get much worse. The Multi-Jurisdictional Task Force (MJTF) is already in place with the coming together of all police departments in the nation, from the village constable to the federal police forces. That is what Isaiah told us in verse 18.

If we obey God's Laws this is what Isaiah says will happen. Verse 24, "Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies: And I will turn my hand upon thee, and purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin: And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city."

What was it like in Christian America when we were the envy of the whole world? The people were very active in public affairs. They demanded righteousness and they got it, one way or another. They didn't have a bank of "Philadelphia" Talmudic lawyers corrupting what the law said. When they saw an evil, they forced the judgment.

That is now happening, although yet only in a few instances, where Americans are forcing judgment. The Mountain States Legal Foundation, 707 Seventeenth Street, Suite 3030, Denver, CO 80202, has a bank of credible attorneys who are forcing the reversal on many of these Fascist actions. They have been able to get reversals all the way up the chain including to the Supreme Court.

All over the country, there are organizations being created to reverse these unGodly actions. Yes, there are still those who are losing their property but it is getting harder and harder for the Fascists to get it.

Remember, Abraham knew the Law, in Genesis 14, when he carried out judgment for the kidnapping of Lot and his family. The Laws were in his heart so he knew them. Moses hadn't even been heard of at that time. It was Melchizedek king of Salem who was the priest of the most high God. And he blessed Abraham and it was that action which Abraham did that permitted him to be the "father of many nations."

Likewise, it was Jesus who was made after the high priest of the order of Melchisedec. Read it very carefully, over and over, in Hebrews chapters 5,6, 7 and 8. The same Laws, Statutes and Judgments were given to us through Jesus. Yes, they are still there regardless of what so many Judeo-Christian Churches teach. Why do you think our forefathers in this country became the envy of the world and we, their descendents, are loathed by the rest of the world? Why should anyone envy us when we obey the laws of the Talmud instead of God's Word?

In some future newsletter we want to show the major divisions of the Bible and how they all fit together. How that fits into the world about us is so important. So many of our people have never been taught what their responsibilities under Jesus Christ really are. With it comes work, courage, obedience, faith, wisdom and understanding. God be with all of us in this next millennium. The job of perfecting the Kingdom is at hand.
