Sunday Meditation

Atheists say they don't believe in God; and many people try to live as though there were no God. But often as not professing atheists are angry with the God they claim to deny. Now certain recent scientific studies suggest that humans are hard-wired to believe in God, and that, in spite of themselves, they instinctively believe in cosmic justice and immortal souls, and feel that sin requires some kind of resolution—all things that imply a divine Creator and Judge. Avowed atheist Graham Lawton, writing in New Scientist, cites studies that indicate that "atheists might not exist." Well, theologians and philosophers have said all along that God created us with an innate need to believe in Him, a God-shaped void that only He can fill. So now even secular science is being forced to acknowledge an inborn human bias for theism. Apparently Chesterton was right: "God doesn't believe in atheists." All for Jesus, Richard

Men's Retreat:
"How Do We Grow From Here?"

Sept. 21-23

Young men, older men, all men, join us for a weekend of brotherhood and great food!

Friday night we will hear from Ron Edwards and enjoy a steak dinner. Saturday we will be joined by Stephen Maxwell & Don McLaughlin from North Atl. CoC. Saturday evening will be a game night! Sign up today on the involvement board. Deadline is Sept. 10!

Coming in Sept....Magi Boxes!!!!

A worship time for ages 3-5 during the message time of adult worship. The kids will learn Biblical lessons each week & do a craft. The Kingdom Kids room is located in the foyer, to the left, as you exit the doors. The green trees on the wall make it easy to find. The children will re-join us after the service during the announcements.
