

Boerne Steel Plate Challenge

Boerne Steel Plate Challenge is designed for the .22 pistol shooter that just wants to have a good time. We will offer the following stages.

Stage 1 (Steel Challenge)

Each shooter will shoot this stage three times. You must engage all 10" white targets in order, before you can shoot the black 12" stop plate. If a steel plate is shot out of order, a 2 second penalty will be added to each plate that was shot out of order, and added to your time. Your time will be recorded after each string. Your three times will be added up after you are done with the state to give you a total time for the stage.

Stage 2 (Plate Rack)

Each shooter will shoot this stage three times. You must shoot the plates from the up position to the down position; all plates must be down to complete the string. Your time will be recorded after each string. your three times will be added up after you are done with the stage to give you a total time for the stage.

Stage 3 (Shooting Tree)

Each shooter will shoot this stage three times. You must engage all 10" white targets in order, before you can shoot the black 12" stop plate. If a steel plate is shot out of order, a 2 second penalty will be added to each plate that was shot out of order, and added to your time. Your time will be recorded after each string. Your three times will be added up after you are done with the state to give you a total time for the stage.

Stage 4 (Silhouettes)

There will be three silhouettes that will be shot in an order directed by the Range Master. It will be a timed and scored event. Three shots per silhouettes. A 2 second penalty will be added for a miss, and a 5 second penalty will be added for shooting out of sequence.
