Abstract

Mission The mission of J and S Real Estate is to provide professional, residential real estate sales services to a variety of sellers across Manhattan and Brooklyn. J and S Real Estate will engage in a high volume business - 40 transactions per month - by offering a $3 \%$ sales commission to sellers. This rate is half of the current market commission rate.

\section*{Staffing}

During the first year, J and S Real Estate will be staffed as follows. Responsibilities are likewise included.

\section*{Co-Principal, Jesse Temple:}

Jesse's responsibilities will be as follows: 1. acquire new listings 2. create affiliations and agreements with cooperating agents, including hiring, training and supervising 3. design, implement, evaluate and execute the promotional plan (including advertising, direct mail, E-marketing, radio, other print material, etc.) 4. show properties to prospective buyers 5. expand the business over time 6. supervise agents 7. implement office systems 8. co-sign all checks 9. complete all other tasks necessary to manage and expand the business

Jesse's compensation will be $20 \%$ of earned commissions. He will share this equally with coprincipal Scott Morrow.

Co-Principal, Scott Morrow: Scott will match Jesse's responsibilities. In addition, Scott will:

1. pitch for new developments
2. set up open houses
3. make presentations

For compensation, see Jesse Temple.
Sales Agent, Yvonne Ritter: Yvonne will show properties and work cooperatively with the principals to move sales to closing. She will also co-sign checks following preparation by Mike Radice, or later the bookkeeper. She will also assist the principals in interviewing new agents and other personnel. For compensation, see Other Sales Agents.

Business Consultant, Mike Radice:

Mike will engage in the following activities:
write a business plan that includes a three-year budget projection plan for new office systems research new project developments through the procurement of one new development perform the following bookkeeping functions until commission income reaches $$ 500,000$, at which time a bookkeeper will be hired
a. write commission checks
b. pay all bills
c. prepare monthly income and expense summaries
d. prepare budgets
e. write checks
f. prepare for audits

Services to be provided pro bono.
Legal, Miguel Lopez and Mary Kosmark: Attorney responsibilities will include writing and reviewing all contracts, and being available for general Legal advice. Services will be provided pro bono until commission income reaches $$ 750,000$.

Other Sales Associates: Independent contractor sales associates will be hired on an as-needed basis. They will report to Jesse Temple. Each will earn 75\% of the 3\% commission received from their respective listings.

Customers

J and S Real Estate anticipates contracting with all kinds of home owners, from the rich to the modest. Because the company offers a $3 \%$ commission on sales, it expects a democratic portfolio of listings. To reach sellers and buyers, J and S will promote its services as follows (see below: Promoting the Company).

Promoting the Company

A promotion plan and budget is attached. Promotional activities will include (but will not be limited to) weekly display advertising in AM New York, a website, direct and e-mail communications to prospective customers, circulars and pitch packages. Eventually, trade shows and radio spots will be added.

The Competition

The number of real estate sales offices in the city and region are too numerous to count. But it doesn't matter: J and S Real Estate will have one big thing to set it apart: its $3 \%$ commission rate on all sales. This rate will enable two things: (1) it will allow the seller to keep more cash in his or her pocket, and (2) it will result in a higher-than-usual volume of listings and sales.

Risk Factors and How to Address Them

Currently, the economy is in a recession that may be getting worse. The situation has created (and/or will create) the following opportunities for J and S Real Estate.

Credit Drying Up: Due to numerous financial institution failures and mergers, there are now fewer home loan sources. Of those that have survived, many are making fewer loans. To address this risk factor, J and S will research loan opportunities for buyers and will make that information available to buyers.

Much Stock on the Market Due to Economic Loss: More people are trying to sell their homes than in recent years. Many are either headed for foreclosure, or they have found a need to sell in a hurry to pay bills. This has created a glut in stock, and prices have begun to fall. The consequence of falling prices is less cash in the pockets of owners once sales are completed. To address this risk factor is J and S's $3 \%$ commission rate, which will allow sellers to keep more of their money during these tough economic times.
