

I am John Shewmaker, candidate for West Covina City Council District 3

Let me use my extensive 44 years of experience in accounting, finance, management, and technology to address and resolve our city's ongoing financial crisis, putting an end to multiple years of multi-million-dollar deficits, reduced services and increasing fees.

Working with other council members, redirecting priorities to include allocate spending to essential community services. This includes hiring additional police officers to ensure quicker response times and a stronger community presence. I also plan to focus on street and sidewalk repairs, as well as graffiti removal.

I've been deeply involved in the community for many years, tackling important issues head-on. My statements aren't just rehearsed campaign lines; they reflect my genuine commitment to finding solutions. My social media and council comments showcase my dedication to addressing key concerns and working collaboratively on meaningful solutions.

It's essential to focus on our city's needs rather than smiles, empty promises and meaningless campaign cliches. Our community faces challenges and misplaced priorities: runaway deficits, inadequate police protection, deteriorating roads, growing homeless population, rampant graffiti and crime.

Stop Business as Usual. I will be your voice.
