

ADD CLINICAL AND FINANCIAL VALUE TO YOUR PRACTICE

Electronic Depression and Mental Health Screening

GreenLight provides you with electronic, in-office depression and mental health screening for your patients, creating both clinical and financial value for your practice.

Primary care physicians and pain management providers appreciate the way in which GreenLight simplifies the process of identifying and monitoring mental health conditions with an electronic mental health screening tool, while capturing a reimbursable event.

Test batteries include screenings for depression, substance abuse, anxiety, opioid risk, PTSD, attention deficit, and more.

GreenLight assessments are scientifically validated, self-administered by the patient on the Greenlight-provided iPad, and reports are stored in the patient's EHR.
