G. City of Centennial, Mayor Cathy Noon

- The City Council meeting has been moved to 7/7 from 7/5 because of July 4th
- She hosted the only female mayor in Afghanistan: that mayor was appointed by president of Afghanistan and doesn't live in the city she Mayor's; it's a new city and very into infrastructure; it's very dangerous to be a female in politics in A.
- The CML state-wide conference was last week. Medical marijuana and the ballot items were the big topics.
- There's been a change to barking dog ordinance: code enforcement no longer has to serve the offender in person, the times for barking have been lessened.
- The city has added some additional road projects for this summer due to savings from last year and good sales tax revenues. We've added some high ranking projects and one for which we're waiting to hear about a grant from DRCOG (Arap from Krameria - Holly, $1+ M). The Centennial website has the list of when projects are projected to be done.
- There's a movie night at Trails Rec. Center on 7/10; see website for info.

- The City will have a budget workshop in Aug. looking at all variables of initiatives passing.

- Reed: Is there news about Civic Center Park? Noon: All items should go out to bid soon.
- CJ Whelan: I walking along Smoky Hill Rd. and came upon sprinklers set to sprinkle across the sidewalk because grass is on both sides of the walk. Noon: I'll ask about that.

H. Scott Murphy, Superintendent of Littleton Schools

- The district has big financial issue. We've laid off about 200 people and the Board has voted for a ballot item (3A?) to increase property tax. A recent Budget Matters document got people inquiring.
- safety at the schools, good security, relationship w/police
- 28 sq.mi, 15,000 kids, 400 grad from each HS, 26 sites, have an early childhood center

II. Centennial Coyote Management Plan, Centennial Sales Tax Program, Karen Stickland, City of Centennial Management Analyst

- The Coyote Management Plan: informal poll. They seem to have moved from Ridgeview Hills North to Hanover Place; Heritage Greens, we haven't seen any in a while; Homestead Farm, we haven't seen any in months; FoxRidge, we have lots; Stickland: The pups are just coming out of the dens and the mamas are teaching them how to hunt. There are fewer and fewer reports of problems, we don't know why.
- Stickland introduced Paula Lewis as the City's new Coyote Plan manager.
- Stickland had some handout materials: Coyote Management Plan; a kiddie piece; what we can do as citizens to deter coyotes (available on Cent. website). A survey will be coming out on people and coyotes.
