

On January 16, we hope you'll grace us with your presence on a day trip to St. Augustine where you can enjoy shopping, touring, and dinner. To take advantage of evening events, we'll travel from 10 a.m. – 10 p.m. on this day, so sleep in a little and conserve your energy for later in the day.

The main evening event will be a tram tour of one of the Nation's best holiday light displays -- St. Augustine's famous Night of Lights-- a perfect way to end your holiday season!

Upon arrival in the early afternoon, you might choose to explore 16th-18th century life (right on the famous St. George Street) at the

To see what you would experience there, visit their website at:
www.colonialquarter.com; Admission is $13 or expand your historical knowledge at Castillo de San Marcos, the oldest fort (1672) in the continental U.S. Visit their website at:

www.nps.gov/casa/index.htm

Admission fee is $10 or visit the Pirate and Treasure Museum across the street from the fort. Admission is only $10.75 (regularly $13.95) if you purchase a ticket in advance at: www.trustedtours.com/store/colonial-quarter-museum.aspx

Or you might choose to tour the Lightner Museum, housed in the former Alcazar Hotel built in 1888 by Henry Flagler. Today it is home to one of the best collections of fine and decorative 19th century art in the country. $10
See: <http://lightnermuseum.org/>

Or visit Flagler College. In 1888, Henry Flagler built the Hotel Ponce de León, his first in a series of luxury resorts along Florida's east coast. The Edison Electric Company powered the building with steam heat and 4,000 electric lights, making the Ponce one of the nation's first electrified buildings. Louis Comfort Tiffany is credited with the building's interior design including the stained glass and mosaics. Tour at 2:00 $8.

.....while our own women folk might prefer to spend their colonial coin along the shops and cafes on St. George Street, or at Scarlett O'Hara's for lunch.

Followed by dinner at Barnacle Bill's Seafood House, where the prices include:

$18.27 pp - choice of 6 entrees plus strawberry dessert

$14.62 pp - choice of six entrees only

Both prices include soda, tea, coffee, tax, and tip.

Again, we'll close out our evening with a tram tour (price negotiated down from $14 to $10) throughout the beauty of this city!

Rest assured ~ We promise to wake you when we arrive home and you won't encounter another car in the Villages!
