

Seminole Newsletter

January

I am here to talk about an election we had recently. We had a good turnout for the troop we went to, and we managed to get 12 boys elected. This was accomplished because the troop has not held an election in over 4 years. I guess that is all I have to say.

-Griffen Walters

The Seminole chapter's historical display at this winter fellowship was a new sci-fi take on a traditional Seminole chiki.

A chiki is a Seminole shelter with a thatch roof and a raised floor. Our futuristic take replaced the thatch with aluminum and had a projector on the raised platform. The projector displayed a video of our chapter's year, with our events and accomplishments. We placed in the bronze tier this year for our historical display.

-Henson Cole

Winter Fellowship was a fun time. A few of the scouts had won the lodge jeopardy, and we got bronze on chapter historical display. The only big downside of the winter fellowship was that at night the temperature got down to about 20 degrees. Other than that the winter fellowship was very enjoyable and fun.

-Jack Cole