Bill Mitchell Fine Art

Artist 1993 - present

My early work was focused on painting, printing and mixed media. For about 10 years I showed in galleries and spaces in Chicago and Milwaukee. My creative work transitioned from fine art to landscape design, a discipline that was incredibly rewarding. Returning to fine art, my work is exploring environmental art. Using objects found in nature I create site specific installations exploring the relationship between technology and nature. The works should be experienced in person, but given the ephemeral nature of them, photo documentation of the installation is employed to document and develop mixed media works.
