

Navigating the Social Studies Job Market

Wednesday, May 1st at 4 P.M. on Zoom

This LICSS webinar looks at the job process for social studies teachers, addressing how to locate possible jobs, crafting your resume and cover letter, interviewing, and teaching the “demo” lesson. We’ll be sure to allow time for any questions.

Three area Social Studies supervisors, a current teacher, and a university director of Social Studies Education will share their insights and offer advice.

Participants:

Charles Backfish, Director of Social Studies Education, Stony Brook University
Kelly Barry, Director of Social Studies and World Languages, Hauppauge School District
Jim Medonis, Director of Social Studies & 21st Century Learning, East Meadow School District
Justin Portente, Social Studies Teacher, East Williston School District
Eric Sundberg, Curriculum Associate, Social Studies, Jericho School District
