Benefits Planning Resources

What is benefits planning?

Benefits planning is a process through which recipients of government benefits (particularly social security benefits) work with a certified Work Incentives Counselor (WIC). These counselors can help beneficiaries understand their work options, and help them make informed choices regarding obtaining employment. Together, they assess the beneficiary's financial and economic circumstances. The WIC assists the beneficiary to understand their benefits and health coverage. The WIC also explains how the individual beneficiary can utilize work incentives and other tools to maximize their financial wellbeing. The Social Security Administration developed Community Partner Work Incentives Counselor (CWICs) certification to insure accurate and current information is being provided.

The following is a list of Benefits Planning Resources in Kentucky.

Center for Accessible Living

Description: The Center for Accessible Living is a Work Incentives Planning and Assistance (WIPA) provider. The Social Security Administration funds WIPA providers around the country to provide benefits planning at no charge. The goal of the WIPA program is to enable beneficiaries with disabilities to make informed choices about work and to support working beneficiaries to make a successful transition to self-sufficiency. Each WIPA project has Community Work Incentives Coordinators (CWIC) who will:

- provide in-depth counseling about benefits and the effect of work on those benefits;
- conduct outreach efforts to beneficiaries of SSI and SSDI (and their families) who are potentially eligible to participate in Federal or State work incentives programs; and
- work in cooperation with Federal, State, private agencies and nonprofit organizations that serve disabled SSI and SSDI beneficiaries.

Who is eligible? People with disabilities in roughly the western half of Kentucky.

What is provided? Free benefits planning services.

Financial Education Providers

What is financial education?

Financial education teaches how money works in the world: how to earn money, how to use banking services, how to manage money or budget it, how to save or invest money and how to donate it to assist others.

The following is a list of Financial Education Providers in Kentucky.

Apprisen (formerly named Consumer Credit Counseling Service of the Midwest)

Description: Apprisen provides financial education through classes, one-to-one financial counseling, webinars and other means. For almost 60 years, Apprisen has been helping people get and stay on track with their money. Their objective has been to develop solutions for all stages of an individual's financial life. As a result of their experience, they have identified the elements of effective money management. That is what has driven the development of many of the materials they use in their sessions and the topics they teach in our communities. Apprisen's comprehensive services can help people focus on the skills and concepts that work together to help create a strong financial life.

Who is eligible? Anyone

What is provided? Financial Education Classes and Counseling. There is no charge for your initial counseling session with a Certified Financial Counselor to assess your financial situation. If you decide to participate in a Debt Management Program (DMP), there are nominal fees to cover the cost of maintaining your program. These fees are subject to state regulations but will never exceed a $35 one-time set up and a $35 monthly fee. Apprisen does not deny service if you are unable to pay. In cases of financial hardship, fees may be reduced or eliminated

Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and Tax Preparation Assistance

What is the Earned Income Tax Credit?

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) is a refundable tax credit for low to moderate income working individuals and families. It was first introduced in 1975 and expanded in 1986, 1990, 1993, and 2001. The EITC provides low income individuals and families with cash to pay off debts, start savings or purchase an asset. Ronald Reagan called the EITC “the best anti-poverty bill, the best pro-family measure and the best job creation measure to come out of the Congress of the United States.” An individual has to claim the EITC to receive it. The IRS estimates 20% of eligible individuals and families do not get the EITC. Individuals can find out if they qualify by visiting <http://www.irs.gov/Individuals/EITC-Home-Page--It%e2%80%99s-easier-than-ever-to-find-out-if-you-qualify-for-EITC>

The Following are Free Tax Preparation Resources

Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA)

VITA gives Kentuckians access to nearly 200 free tax preparation sites across the state where trained and IRS-certified volunteers can assist individuals with their taxes and help them apply for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC). VITA sites in Kentucky can also be found at: <http://www.assistance.ky.gov/> or individuals can use the IRS VITA Locator Tool or call 1-800-906-9887.

Individual Development Accounts (IDAs)

What are Individual Development Accounts?

Individual Development Accounts (IDAs) are matched savings accounts that assist people with low to modest income save towards the purchase of an asset, such as a home. Participants receive a match when they achieve their savings goal. Every dollar in savings deposited into an IDA by participants is matched. The level of match differs from program to program.

The following is a list of IDA programs in Kentucky.

Assets for Independence (AFI)

Description: Assets for Independence (AFI) is a federal IDA program in which participants can save for one of the following: self-employment, post-secondary education or home ownership. AFI programs are administered by community-based nonprofit organizations and government agencies. In addition to the IDAs, all AFI projects provide basic financial management training and supportive services, such as financial education on owning and managing a bank account or a credit card; credit counseling and repair; guidance in accessing refundable tax credits, including the Earned Income Tax Credit and the Child Tax Credit; and specialized training in owning particular assets for the long term.

How to contact? <http://idaresources.acf.hhs.gov/>.

Hazel Joyce Wiley Career and Financial Literacy Institute

This IDA program emphasizes homeownership and postsecondary education with the goal of providing educational incentives for participants to develop personal savings habits and improving economic literacy; and providing monetary incentives for individuals, single families and youth who are capable of saving earned income for homeownership, small business, or secondary education.

Jewish Family and Career Services of Louisville

Jewish Family and Career Services of Louisville (JFCSL) is a multi-service nonprofit organization that has one AFI grant with the objective of meeting the needs of immigrants. Jewish Family and Career Services of Louisville is a network grantee that emphasizes homeownership and postsecondary education, with the goal of providing low-wage health workers with asset-building services focused on helping them improve their family stability and self-sufficiency leading to career advancement. Jewish Family and Career Services has been successful in providing asset-building services to low-income individuals since 1995, with the establishment of its Navigate Enterprise Center, which originally provided microenterprise development services to refugees. JFCSL partners with Norton Healthcare and Trilogy Health Services to provide low-wage health workers with asset-building services.

How to contact? (502) 452-3641 or visit www.jfcslouisville.org

The Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence (KCADV)

The Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence (KCADV) is a Network grantee with 16 subgrantees. The organization emphasizes homeownership, postsecondary education and business capitalization, with the goals of illustrating the value of asset building as a way to reduce and eliminate poverty, encouraging self-sufficiency among IDA participants, and teaching individual financial skills. KCADV targets eligible low-income domestic violence victims throughout Kentucky who receive services through its centers. KCADV serves other low income individuals through some of its subgrantees.

Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS)

KCTCS and the KCADV collaborate on the Completion IDA to offer Individual Development Accounts (IDAs) to participants in the KCTCS Ready to Work (RTW) program. KCTCS has identified the Completion IDA as a strategy to support student retention and graduation while decreasing a student's debt burden. Completion IDAs are matched, restricted savings accounts. Participants receive financial education and credit counseling while they are saving for their education goals. They can save $1,000 of their own funds (including work study, Earned Income Tax Credit contributions, PELL refund contributions, etc.) and will receive $4,000 in matching funds. In order to participate an RTW student must be enrolled at a KCTCS college, have earned income, must have earned a minimum of 12 credit hours and have a minimum GPA of 2.0.

How to contact? Contact the Ready-To-Work/Work and Learn Coordinator at the KCTCS institution.

Other IDA Programs

Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence Car IDA

Description: KCADV's Car-IDA program is funded by the Allstate Foundation and other corporate and private funders, and serves as a stepping stone to financial stability through the purchase of a vehicle.

Who is eligible? This program is only offered to survivors of domestic violence who have not already participated in the Classic IDA program. Unlike the AFI IDA program, Car-IDA applicants do not have to have earned income, but must have the means to save at least $20 a month. Applicants cannot make more than 200% of the federal poverty level.

What is provided? Car-IDA participants can use IDA matched-savings for the down payment or full payment of a vehicle and associated taxes and transfer fees. IDA funds can also be used for car insurance. Car-IDA participants open designated savings accounts at partner banks. Every account must be opened with a $20 deposit. KCADV offers a 1 to 1 match, which means for every dollar saved in an IDA, the dollar is matched with $1. A participant can save a total of $2,000 and will be matched with $2,000 to have a total of $4,000 to spend on a car purchase. All participating banks have agreed to waive fees and minimum balances requirements while the participant is an active IDA saver. Participants must be in the program for at least 6 months and no longer than two years. All participants are required to attend financial skills building workshops to learn how to save, budget and invest wisely. Participants are also required to work on credit scores by building credit and paying off debt. Car-IDA participants must also attend a car maintenance workshop to learn how to properly maintain their purchased vehicle.

How to contact? To find a partner agency near you, visit http://kdva.org/victim_services/kydvcenter.html.

Independent Living Car IDA

Description: In partnership with KCADV, the Kentucky Office of Vocational Rehabilitation is offering a Car IDA for individuals with disabilities through its independent living program.

Who is eligible? Individuals in roughly the Ashland and Murray areas who have a disability and are eligible for independent living services

What is provided? A 1 to 1 match savings account. A participant can save a total of $2,000 and will be matched with $2,000 to have a total of $4,000 to spend on a car purchase.

How to contact? Referrals for the program should contact Sarah Richardson at (800) 372-7172.

Low Interest Loan Programs

What is a low interest loan program?

Low interest loan programs can help low income individuals fill specific needs. They have the added benefit of helping individuals improve their credit standing, including credit scores, if successfully paid off.

The following is a list of Low Interest Loan Programs in Kentucky.

The Kentucky Assistive Technology Loan Corporation (KATLC)

Description: Established by state statute in 1996, KATLC is governed by a seven-member Board of Directors, four of whom must have disabilities, that reviews all applications. KATLC made its first loan in the summer of 2000 and now has provided more than $8.5 million in loans to Kentuckians with disabilities to enable them to get the assistive technology they need, making it one of the most active assistive technology alternative financing programs in the nation. The Kentucky Office of Vocational Rehabilitation currently provides the staff support to the Board and KATLC.

Who is eligible? Residents of Kentucky for at least six consecutive months who either have a disability that permanently affects a major life activity, or is a parent, guardian of an individual with a disability and have the ability to repay the loan. The purpose of the loan must be to purchase assistive technology to be used by the individual with a disability.

A nonprofit organization that provides assistive technology to individuals with disabilities may also apply if they can demonstrate how the adaptive equipment will be used for their potential customers.

What is provided? Low interest loans for qualified applicants with disabilities who need assistive technology. Assistive technology is defined as "any item, piece of equipment or device that enables an individual with a disability to improve his or her independence and quality of life." Examples may include hearing aids, computers, augmentative communication devices, home modifications, and van lifts. The minimum amount you can borrow is $500 and the maximum amount is $25,000 except that the maximum amount you can borrow for home modifications is $15,000. The length of the loan is determined by the life expectancy of the assistive technology. KATLC's lending partner is Fifth Third Bank of Kentucky.

Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence Micro Loan Program

Description: The goal of the Kentucky Coalition Against Domestic Violence (KCADV) is to create awareness and help combat domestic violence in the Commonwealth.

Who is eligible? Survivors of domestic violence that are also active savers in the IDA-classic and Car-IDA programs. KCADV requires participants to work with an IDA advocate before requesting a loan. Any IDA participant can apply for a KCADV micro loan, but KCADV prefers that participants be in their second or third year. In all cases, IDA advocates will screen the participants to be sure that they are a good fit for the program. Participants must have an active IDA with a good history of savings.

What is provided? The IDA participant can borrow up to the amount of savings they have in their IDA savings account. However, the first loan to each participant will be limited to $500. There is no interest charged on the loans. There is no requirement for how the loan should be spent. For example, participants can use the loan to cover expenses incurred during an emergency, start an emergency savings account, or pay off collection debt.

How to contact? The micro loans are secured with the money a participant has saved in an Individual Development Account, and the participant may borrow no more than is in the account. Micro loans are paid back over one year. Micro loans are a useful tool available to help participants increase credit scores.

How to contact? http://www.kdva.org/projects/economic_justice/microloan.html.

Central Bank Program of Assisted Lending

Description: The Program of Assisted Lending (PAL) Loan at Central Bank is a fixed-rate loan for lower-income families or individuals to use for any purpose. These loans can be an alternative to exploitive pay-day lending. Central Bank has branches in Berea, Georgetown, Lexington, Louisville, Nicholasville, Crestview Hills, Fort Mitchell, Florence, Richmond and Winchester, Kentucky

Who is eligible? Families or individuals with incomes of $30,000 or less. Loans are subject to credit approval.

What is provided? Loans with a special fixed interest rate in amounts between $500 and $3,500.

Bank On

What is Bank On?

Bank On programs negotiate with banks and credit unions in local communities to reduce barriers to banking and increase access to the financial mainstream. The initiative provides low-income un- and under banked people with free or low-cost starter or “second chance” bank accounts and access to financial education. Bank On is a great resource if your client is unbanked. Many individuals who are unbanked use check cashing, pay day loan or rent to own services instead of a bank account. These services are expensive and tend to deplete the person’s limited financial resources. Many employers pay their employees with direct deposit which requires a person to have an account with a bank or credit union. Through its participating partners, Bank On can provide financial education classes. Search local Bank on Programs here: <http://joinbankon.org/programs/>.

Home Ownership Programs

What are home ownership programs?

Home ownership programs are programs designed to assist people to purchase or maintain a home. This assistance can come in the form of a low interest home loan, relaxed lending terms, subsidies, or other resources.

The following is a list of home ownership assistance programs in Kentucky.

In addition to the sources below, many of the Individual Development Account programs described on pages 10 through 12 can assist individuals in saving to purchase a home.

Kentucky Housing Corporation Loan Programs

Description: Kentucky Housing Corporation (KHC) was created by the 1972 General Assembly and is a self-supporting, public corporation of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. KHC is a quasi-government agency, which is administratively attached to the Finance and Administration Cabinet. Among other services, KHC offers loan programs under 2 funding sources with different requirements.

Who is eligible? First-time and repeat homebuyers statewide. Borrowers must fall within income guidelines which vary by county and program and can be found by visiting <http://www.kyhousing.org/Home-Buyers/Pages/Loan-Programs.aspx>. Applicants must have a minimum credit score of 640 or 680.

What is provided? Home mortgage loans through a KHC approved lender. The maximum purchase price ranges from $115,000 to $243,000 for the different loan programs.

HUD Homeownership Voucher Program

Description: This program enables some Housing Choice Voucher recipients to use their vouchers to help them purchase homes, instead of renting. Homeownership assistance may last indefinitely for a family with a member with a disability. For a family with a member with a disability, annual income of adult members who will own the home must be at least as high as the SSI federal benefit rate for an individual ($721/month in 2014), unless the public housing authority (PHA) chooses to make it higher. Contact local public housing agency (PHA) to ask whether it offers Homeownership Vouchers.

Who is eligible? Housing Choice Voucher recipients

What is provided? This program enables some Housing Choice Voucher recipients to use their vouchers to help them purchase homes, instead of renting.

How to contact? A list of Housing Authority offices in Kentucky can be found at:
<http://www.hud.gov/offices/pih/pha/contacts/states/ky.cfm>.

KHC Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) Program

Description: The Kentucky Housing Corporation's Family Self-Sufficiency Program (FSS) is a voluntary program. Participants work with case managers who teach employment skills, money management tips and homeownership education. The program offers participants the opportunity to learn new skills, achieve economic self-sufficiency, and even provides a means to save for a home of their own.

Who is eligible? People who are receiving housing assistance through the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher Program administered by KHC.

What is provided? With the FSS Program, KHC opens - and contributes to - a savings account in the participant's name. As the participant's earned income increases, their rent share goes up accordingly and KHC's share decreases. Some or all of KHC's payment portion goes into the savings account, which graduates can spend as they wish. Many FSS participants finish the program with enough money for a down payment on a new home.

Habitat for Humanity

Description: Habitat for Humanity provides low-cost homeownership for people with low incomes through "sweat equity." The individual (or his/her family or friends) must contribute 500 hours of labor rehabilitating houses before s/he qualifies for a rehabbed house at a much lower cost than if s/he were to pay the full costs of renovation. Individuals must form a relationship with a local Habitat affiliate and be accepted as a partner family.

Who is eligible? Partner families are selected based on need and willingness to partner.

What is provided? Habitat offers 0%-interest mortgages for 20 or 30 years.

How to contact?

To find local affiliate, see <http://www.habitat.org/local/affiliate?zip=&area=KY&=Search> or <http://hfh-ky-sso.huterra.com/affiliates>.

Resources for Financing Post-Secondary Education

The Kentucky Education Savings Trust

The Kentucky Education Savings Plan Trust enables families to save for college in a plan exempt from state and federal income taxes. Six different investment options exist. The initial contribution may be as little as $25 per investment option. Subsequent contributions may be as little as $25 per investment option or $15 per pay period per investment option with payroll deduction. The maximum amount that can be saved is $235,000. There is no income limit. The Trust is managed by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KEHAA). For more information, visit www.kysaves.com.

Student Loan and Education Resource List

This concise, five-page guide provides resources to help beginning students figure out what their college education financing options are, what they can afford, which schools are worth the cost and how to get the student loan process started. Current and former students can benefit from the sections on loan repayment and what to do if the loan goes into default. The publication includes resources specifically for veterans. This guide is a project of Consumer Action's Managing Money Project for financial literacy. It can be found at http://www.consumer-action.org/downloads/english/student_loan_guide.pdf.
