

Casco Township Board of Trustees
Minutes Regular Meeting
May 15, 2017 at 7:00pm

Call to Order: Overhiser called the meeting to order and led in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Present: Overhiser, Macyauski, Brenner, Winfrey, Judge William A. Baillargeon, Deputy Kurt Katje & 16 other interested people.

Absent: Graff

Judge William A. Baillargeon was present he thanked us for having him and he handed out the 2016 Annual Report of the 57th District Court and he discussed some of the other aspects they are doing at 57th District Court. This is his fourth year as the Chief District Court Judge and glad to be able to share with us the Annual Report. One of the main things that he likes about this, it does provide a lot of the information as to how many OWY intoxicated cases, domestic violence's, and things like that and things like trying to intervene with first offenders giving them the tools to work with. One thing he would like to point out certain individuals who really make the court operate accurately and efficiently are the clerks that are behind the scene. They are the individuals that you need to check in with and they work with a great deal of professionalism and courtesy. The clerks are to be commended for their excellent work. The supreme court demands certain measures of things that need to be recorded to Lansing and our courts are always rated right at the very top and it is consistent. He gives a lot of the credit to our Court Administrator, Linda Lenahan, she actually use to work for the Supreme Court office, she does an excellent job.

Bob Sherwood recommended that the court send to the Fennville Library a copy of the Annual Report.

PUBLIC COMMENT: Michelle Woodhams stated that her and her husband have been residents in Casco since 1986 and have concerns about the activity going on in their neck of the woods and you probably wonder why we are concerned because this isn't their property but she believes there is a way to plan for things to happen development to take place and choosing what is convenient for whoever is doing the developing. She stated that it is a little lack of concern for the surrounding area, environment for the recent sale of the Winkel property. Michelle asked how to find out what their rights are and just because we don't have the money to buy the property to protect it she doesn't think that if someone has the money they can do whatever they want. Allan stated that the only thing that regulates what they are doing is the Michigan Rights to Farm Act which is administered by the Michigan Dept. of Agriculture, this will cover what they are doing now and what they will do in the future. Michelle said they are cutting all the trees up and down the street, she said they can barely get out of their driveway to the north. We can't get out of our house and the firetrucks can't come down there. The Right to Farm Act gives the farmers the right to do what they need to do to farm.

Reports:

Police-Deputy Kurt Katje agrees with what the courts do with their programs and they are very successful. Monthly stats are coming back, he will email them to Kathy. He also reported that the next monthly meeting, he will be in Grand Rapids all week getting instructions on installing children's car
