A Fun Event for a Serious Cause

The ninth-annual 2015 “Go Play in the Street! 5K Run/Walk and Mile Fun Run/Walk” was held Saturday, October 10 in Greenfield, IL. There were 86 registered participants, along with 13 children, 3- to 8-years old, who registered for the third-annual “Tot Trot.” All net proceeds are donated to support cancer research and programs dedicated to helping cancer patients and their families. This year, recipients are Greene County Relay for Life and Siteman Cancer Center. Honorary “pace-setter” was cancer survivor Roberta Trump of Greenfield, who lead the runners through the 3.1 mile course.

Shannon Cole, 36, of Greenfield, repeated as overall winner of the 5K, in a time of 21:38. First place male was Trent Glaenzer, 8, of Waterloo, with a time of 25:44. One second behind Trent was his grandfather, Jim McClelland, 58, of Greenfield, with a time of 25:45. Not far behind Trent was the winner of the Male 70+ category, Burt Hemken, 70, of Walshville, with a time of 28:29 (twelfth overall).

However, it was the women who dominated the 2015 event. The top three finishers overall were Cole, followed by Kate Mansfield, 24, Roodhouse, in 23:46; and, Anna Albrecht, 31, Greenfield, in 24:03.

Following the races, participants enjoyed Alfonso’s pizza and Kroger bagels, fruit, chocolate milk and water during the award ceremony. Medals were presented to the top female and male finishers (Cole and Glaenzer); and to the first- and second-place finishers in each age category. Everyone received a finisher’s medal and technical running shirt commemorating their participation.

According to Race Director Patty Thaxton, the event drew participants from Greene County, Jerseyville, Jacksonville, Winchester, Petersburg, Hettick, Waterloo, Carlinville, Belleville, Dorchester, Gillespie, Walshville, Marion, Collinsville, Waverly, and out-of-state racers from Manchester, Missouri.
