

Brookelynn
Green

Getting the tree 5th

By: Brookelynn 11/15/18

My favorite christmas tradition is going to the tree farm to cut down our family's tree. First we all load up in the car. My nana drives while we sing christmas songs. We arrive there and get on a hayrack tractor, that takes us in to the lot of trees. We then choose which to kind we want. Then we get off the hay rack, and go in search of the perfect christmas tree that we want to take home. I help my dad saw it down. My papy and dad load the tree and us onto the hayrack ride and we head up to the barn which admiring the beautiful snowy scenery. We then go in to the barn as the workers shake and bound our tree. Our parents let us pick out a ornament after everyone has the ornament of our liking. We partake in hot chocolate or apple cider and cookies. My dad then pays the bill finally my dad and papy ties our tree to the top of the car. We head home singing the whole way. We get home decorate our tree, and hope that santa will soon arrive with presents for for each of us.

Marry Christmas!