

Diaego's adoption fee is $250.

Hi, my name is Diageo. Do not let a bit of white on my face fool you, I am a very active 12 year old boy. I love, love, love to play ball and chase/wrestle with my foster siblings. I used to live in an apartment, but I am really liking this fenced-in backyard thing. I can run and play, or just lounge in the sun. Freedom in the great outdoors is very addictive, so I would very much prefer to have a secure yard in my new home and I can promise you a bunny and squirrel free yard. My foster mom says I have a high prey drive. I guess she is referring to the rabbit I caught last week. (Note from foster mom, all those involved in the bunny incident did come out unscathed)

I am as house trained as a dachshund can be. I do have some allergies, but they are being managed very well with just watching my diet.

If you are looking for a fun loving but mature fellow, I may just be the match for you.
