Male Genital Mutilation: A Global Problem

650 million living males are victims of genital mutilation

Types of Male Genital Mutilation

- Type I: Circumcision
- Type II: Circumcision followed by partial or total excision of the prepuce leaving the glans penis exposed (also known as FGC-2)
- Type III: Clitoridectomy (removal of the clitoris), genital cutting, or strangulation
- Type IV: Various lesser forms of genital cutting

- Male Genital Mutilation prevalent
- Male Genital Mutilation uncommon

North America
Europe
Africa
South America
Asia
Australia
Antarctica