

We are drawing ever near the end of another liturgical year and Advent will be upon us before you know it, renewing our anticipation of the birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ. I hope we can renew our desire to serve Him in new ways, keeping Him at the center of our Christmas Season and everyday lives.

The last NCCW Connect Leadership article was full of ideas to rejuvenate memberships. (visit nccw.org it is full of information and ideas) Always be welcoming to new ideas and members. Listen and respond in positive ways to new ideas and change things up. Recruit new members by being a mentor and invite someone who doesn't even know CCW exists. Invite women who have left and are just waiting for a nudge to reconnect with your Parish affiliate. We are the HOPE of our organization and only through you will our DCCW be strong. It is the 100th year of this wonderful NCCW organization, let's make it even better, stronger, more Joyful and filled with the Spirit of Grace that has kept it thriving all these 100 years by increasing our new members.

Leadership Trumps Management

By David Truss - <http://paicadimes.davidtruss.com/leadership-and-management/>

Seasoned members ===== guide ===== New members

Established Affiliates ##### help ##### New Affiliates

BE the Leader that is approachable, helpful, kind, respectful, listens well, invites, mentors, teaches, shares, encourages, embraces change, and asks for help!

The Leadership committee continues to tweak the bylaws and standing rules. We welcome your input and questions. contact me at barb0235@msn.com.