How long will it take to rent my home?

The average is approximately two to four weeks to rent homes in our inventory. Some homes lease more quickly, while others take a bit longer, depending on the area and the schools associated with the home. During our initial meeting, we will discuss the potential lead times specifically related to renting your home.

As a property owner client when can I expect to see my payment?

Payments should arrive in your bank account, if you signed up for direct deposit, before the 4th of each month. These funds will be liquid and you may use the funds without any holding period. Unlike a check that requires clearance, your funds have already had a waiting period to clear our bank (from a third party vendor) prior to you receiving it. For owners who choose not to use direct deposit, checks will be processed around the 12th of the month and mailed the same day.

As new property management client when will I receive my first payment?

It depends to a large degree on what day of the month in which your home is leased. All funds received and paid out between the first and last day of the month should be available in your bank account, assuming you signed up for direct deposit, before the 4th day of the following month. The 1st month's rent collected is applied toward the tenant placement fee.
