

Letter to the Editor- January 19, 2017

Now I know why the NJMP was anxious to cut off our Sound Committee meetings over a year ago with the bogus claim of disparagement on my part. That puts them in control of their hen house and can formulate propaganda without accountability.

A newly created section on their web site called "Community Feedback" lists, among other things of interest, 'Sound Complaints- 2016' (notice it deliberately does not say 'noise'). It is interesting to know of the copious number of complaints they received in 2016, only 6 are listed, 4 due to noise. Of those 4, 1 was dismissed as having no foundation and in the other 3, NJMP was sited as not the culprit. They even listed the NASCAR race but only to the fact they received no complaints. This is not true as complaints were filed.

Rather selective filtering on their part, wouldn't you say?

It also states at the bottom of this annotated complaint list: "At the end of each month NJMP will populate this page with the most up-to-date feedback from the community." Really? Or only the ones that present them in the best light? Well, we'll see...
