Making a Difference

From Madeleine:

I started riding at MTRP when I was six years old. In the words of my parents, "Seeing our little girl on that big horse made us so nervous!" However, Stephanie promised them that she would take care of me, and she kept her promise every week for fifteen years. During my lessons, I not only learned how to care for my horse, I learned how to live my life.

There were a few moments over the years when I wanted to give up, because the skill I needed to master seemed just too big. After a pep talk from Stephanie and a few frustrated tears, I would have the courage to attempt the skill. Once I tried and succeeded, I would do it over and over again, out of pure surprise and delight that I had mastered a skill that I had thought was just too hard.

I could go on and on about MTRP and the impact it has had on my life. If I had to sum it up in a single sentence, it would be this: Midwest Therapeutic Riding Program is a family, where everyone wants the best for one other, and once you are a part of the MTRP family, you're always a part of the MTRP family!
