Pennsylvania House Minority Judiciary Chairman Ron Marsico visits parental seminar on youth culture at Central Dauphin Middle School.

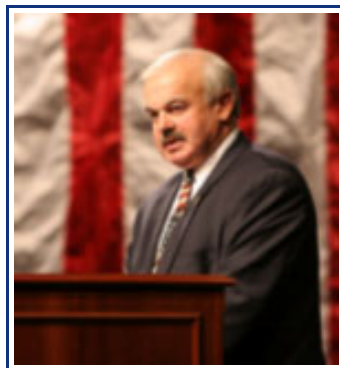

Chairman Marsico joined parents from the Central Dauphin School District to hear nationally known speaker and Founder of the National Character Education Foundation (NCEF) David Rettig. Mr. Rettig's presentation is designed to help parents understand the ever-changing youth culture and how it effects their children.

In light of all the recent negative events surrounding our youth at Central Dauphin Middle School, Principal Pam Boyd scheduled the seminar to help parents understand the seriousness of the issues and find the necessary help.

The seminar was very straightforward in addressing the negative effects of bullying, drugs/alcohol use, teen sexuality, internet predators, gang involvement, violent music and video games.

"Mr. Rettig who is an authority on understanding the immense pressures and negative messages facing today's youth culture sent a very clear message to all of us". Said Chairman Marsico. "The situation regarding our youth is frightening when you consider the amount of potentially dangerous issues facing them". He added.

"This is why I have introduced various policies that establish stronger penalties for drug dealers as well as establishing a new program designed to help parents. Parents whose children have been affected by alcohol and drug abuse will now be able to come together to study accessible treatment services and make recommendations to facilitate access to treatment and intervention services under this new program". said Chairman Marsico.

Representative Ron Marsico

"It is truly wonderful to see and experience the passion Chairman Marsico has for the good and welfare of the people. He not only cares for the people of his local district but he genuinely cares for all the people throughout the entire commonwealth". Said Rettig.
