Outline

- Changes
- Critical Thinking
- Philosophy - Truth About the Process
- Information + Tips
- Campus Visit
- Application Process
- Final Thoughts
- Questions

Changes: COVID

- Remote learning
- Suspension of all exams (Regents)
- Deadline changing/moving
- Creative grading from March 2020 on
- AP moving online, IB exams not held
- Visiting - virtual tours and virtual information sessions
- Open Houses
- Standardized tests

Changes: Operation Varsity Blues

- Parents, test administrators and college coaches were involved in a widespread effort to rig the college admissions process for children.
- More than 50 people in two sets of schemes: standardized test cheating; and college acceptance bribery.
- Entrance exam cheating and posing as athletic recruits
- School counselors were among the first to identify the scandal.
- School counselors and admissions professionals have not been identified as being involved.

Changes: Standardized Test Scores

Changes: NACAC Code of Ethics and Professional Practices (CEPP)

Voted to remove sections as it may violate antitrust laws and to institute a moratorium on enforcement of the entire document.

Colleges must not offer incentive exclusive to students applying or admitted under an Early Decision application plan.

Once students have committed themselves to a college, other colleges must respect that choice and cease recruiting them.

Colleges will not knowingly recruit or offer enrollment incentives to students who have already enrolled, registered, have declared their intent, or submitted contractual deposits to other institutions. May 1 is the point at which commitments to enroll become final, and colleges must respect that.

Colleges must not solicit transfer applications from a previous year's applicant or prospect pool unless the students themselves initiated a transfer inquiry or the college has verified prior to contacting the student that they are either enrolled at a college that allows transfer recruitment from other colleges or are not currently enrolled in college.

Philosophy - Truth

- Colleges need students
- Lots of excellent schools and many very happy students
- What varies is setting, size and location
- 2/3 get in to first choice, 93% get in first or second choice
- Reality -not objective, but subjective
- Where, when and how do I start
- Process
- Make sure you INVOLVE YOUR SCHOOL COUNSELOR
- Necessity of College Degree / Can't be taken away
- Anyone can go to college in the US
- More than one route to college / 50% start at Community College
- Don't limit your search Private/Public, In-State/Out, Commuting/Living on, Small/ Large, Military, Women's
- Free Resources

Philosophy - Advice for Students

- Be creative
- Match to be made
- Pick more than one first choice
- Be honest
- Communication is key
- Dialogue
- Take a risk
- Relate to the campus
- Tell your story - qualities, character and personality should show
- Proofread, edit, rewrite
- Don't save the essay for last

Critical Thinking

- Emergency room visit or surgery?
- Where you go to college matters less than if you go to college
- Make college a big deal not a particular college a big deal
- Over 4,500 schools
- Mail from almost all of them
- Marketing
- Business
- Smiling faces

iconic shot of campus on the most beautiful day of the year.

Bet it's all sort of starting to run together, huh? We try to be distinctive and funny, but at this point, you've been getting mail from tons of schools. Every college wants your attention. Not to mention, there are other applications to complete and schoolwork to finish. It's a stressful time. We get it. So rather than give you another dose of the usual hard sell, we figured we'd pass along a few tips from folks around our office about how to cope with the final stages of the college admissions process.

Many mornings I get my coffee and an interesting conversation with the undergrads, grad students, professors, doctors that frequent the Divinity School Coffee Shop. I overhear conversations about everything from theology to protein synthesis to vector spaces. Maybe it's the spacious and intimate seating arrangement of the renovated shop that contributes to the buzz about these conversations, but there's a feeling of community in Div.

Law School Cafe: The best place outside the Beltway to have coffee with senators, Supreme Court justices, and even presidents-to-be.

Logan Cafe: This bright, modern space hosts poetry slams every Wednesday.

Plein Air Cafe: Grab a book from the Seminary Co-Op, sit back amidst the local art, and enjoy some coffee from glass contraptions right out of a mad scientist's lab.

Harper Cafe: Study in one of the most beautiful reading rooms in all of Chicago.

Hallowed Grounds: A cozy environment with free pool tables for when you need a study break.

Grounds of Being: The Div. School basement nook that claims to be "where God drinks coffee."

Medici Bakery: While the coffee is top-notch, you should also be sure to try a Mexicana Milkshake at least once before you leave Hyde Park.

Cobb Coffee Shop: Known for its hip clientele, Cobb's a great place to study and watch old movies curated by the staff.

C-Shop: Drop in for a $1 shake on Wednesday, one of our most popular campus traditions.

Campus Bookstore: Convenient coffee plus a small convenience shop.

Dollop Coffee: Located in the Campus North Residential Commons, Dollop Coffee is known for its house-made pastries and sandwiches and single-origin joe made from Metropolis Coffee beans.

Ex Libris: If you absolutely positively can't leave the library, Ex Libris has all the supplies you need, including an ample stock of sushi and sandwiches.

TrueNorth Cafe: Known for its experimental lattes (we recommend the cardamom lavender latte!), it's a great place to grab a quick bite to eat.

Quantum Cafe: A sleek and modern cafe where you'll find baristas engineering a perfect cup of coffee.

REAL CHARACTERS

DR. "INDIANA" JONES
(INDIANA JONES SERIES)

While a UChicago student, Jones was almost expelled for turning in a bag of sand that weighed exactly as much as a midterm exam.

KITTY PRYDE
(X-MEN)

Kitty's cross country career at UChicago was cut short after one too many disqualifications for "winning races by becoming intangible and taking shortcuts through concrete walls."

DANIEL JACKSON
(STARGATE SG1)

Despite repeated attempts, Daniel Jackson's pitch to UChicago's Study Abroad Office to "offer a study abroad program somewhere in the Andromeda Galaxy" always fell on deaf ears.

MARK WATNEY
(THE MARTIAN)

Watney's Housemates got tired of him making potato salad for House study break every single week.

HARRY AND SALLY
(WHEN HARRY MET SALLY)

Harry and Sally graduated from UChicago with the same degree and having taken the exact same courses because Harry kept telling the registrar that he would just "take what she's taking."

DRIX (OSMOSIS JONES)

Before going on to distinguish himself fighting a virus in Bill Murray's immune system, Drix had a decorated academic career. He graduated Phi Beta Capsule from UChicago and was admitted to his dream pharmacy.

DR. RICHARD KIMBLE
(THE FUGITIVE)

During his time at UChicago's Pritzker School of Medicine, Dr. Richard Kimble, M.D., benefited greatly from taking the elective course Evading Deputy Marshals 101.

JACK MCCOY
(LAW & ORDER)

"In the UChicago academic system, advancements are made via two separate yet equally important principles: theory, which is able to solve any problem, and practice, which always gets the theory wrong." - Jack McCoy, as a UChicago undergrad, giving a campus tour to prospective students

ATTEND SUNY / FIND A SUNY PROGRAM / FIND YOUR MAJOR

The image shows a search interface for finding a major. It features a background image of a library with bookshelves and a person's back. The main heading is "Find Your Major". Below the heading are three input fields: "Enter Keyword", "Select Degree Level" (with a dropdown arrow), and "Select Campus" (with a dropdown arrow). To the right of these fields are two buttons: "Search" (purple) and "Reset" (white). Below the "Search" button are two links: "Alternate Search" and "Print All Majors".

Information for Letters of Recommendation

Counselor

- Offer different perspective on a student.
- Provide additional insight instead of restating application details, i.e. work ethic, response to adversity, overcoming obstacles.
- Avoid form letters that simply replace names and pronouns.

Student

- Submit 1 - 3 letters, even if not required.
- Select the right person to write it (a teacher who really knows them).
- Provide an activities resume.
- Write a thank you note.

Information for College Essay/Personal Statement

- Student's personal introduction to the admissions committee
- Student's voice and opportunity to bring the application to life
- Opportunity to share personal values and story
- Should choose topic carefully
- Essays should be unique, but not weird
- Follow the directions
- Proofread, edit, rewrite
- Don't save it for last!
- Student should take care not to use name of the wrong college.

Information for Activities and Involvement

- Meaningful, sustained community service
  - Immersed in the experience
  - Emotional awareness
  - Develops a sense of responsibility
- Leadership positions
  - In school or within the community
- Continuous commitment
  - Dedication demonstrated, not just one-time event
- Employment vs. activities
