

Eddie Miller

Eddie Miller is married to Kade Miller and is blessed with two amazing children which she was privileged to homeschool from kinder-12th grade. Although her youngest child is graduating from high school this year, her passion for teaching youth is still strong. Outside of the classroom, Eddie has spent many years teaching children's and youth Sunday School as well as coaching youth sports. She is the director and head coach for the San Antonio Saints which is a brand new homeschool volleyball program here in San Antonio. Before having children, she taught for 9 years in both private and public schools. Eddie holds a BA in English. She minored in geography and has over 15 hours of graduate work completed in education. While Eddie believes that a solid and strong education is important, her greatest belief is that we teach kids to love to learn and have fun while learning.
