For the Love of Fabric

Made By: Serena Vrnak
Quilted: Amy Sandidge
Source: Courthouse Steps
I love fabric. Consequently, I select patterns that will showcase fabric. With this pattern I learned, too late, a quarter inch should be consistently applied in piecing. Bless my excellent quilter!

Entry #: 7 / STAGE

A Few of My Favorite Things

Made By: Serena Vrnak
Quilted: Patricia Harrison
The four patches were a group exchange. The background (green) was taken from a dear friend whose momentary mind lapse has contributed to my quilting success. Thank you Marilyn! Ribbons: 1st place in Tyler, Dallas and NQA National Quilting Show plus Best Use of Color in Tyler show.

Entry #: 8 / STAGE

Decisions, Decisions, Decisions

Made By: Serena Vrnak
Quilted: Patricia Harrison
Source: Based on Karen K. Stone's Cinco de Mayo
For me this quilt was the opportunity to prove all values and intensity of a single color would work when strategically placed in a single quilt. The center medallion is Stones' "Cinco de Mayo" with all borders being my design setting. Ribbons: 1st place, Tyler; 3rd place, Dallas; Honorable Mention, NQA National Quilting Show;

Members' Choice, Tyler.
Published in the 2016 QUILTART Engagement Calendar.

The Coulda, Shoulda, Woulda Quilt

Made By: Serena Vrnak
Source: Original
I Coulda finished the quilt by now! It Shoulda been my first quilt as I started it in 1999! It Woulda been nice to see my daughter enjoying the piece while I'm still alive! But, ya' know, I could leave it pinned to the sheet and call it WALL ART!!!
