Lachine General Planning Addition To Increase Beds

THE ORIGINAL Lachine General Hospital started in a small wooden house in 1909. It moved into a larger house in 1909, it moved into a larger house in 1910. A new building was erected in 1951. This architect's sketch shows the present hospital and the new wing on the right which is part of the expansion programme now planned. A public appeal for $1,250,000 is now in progress.

"Why does Lachine General Hospital need $1,250,000? How can this amount be raised?"

These questions were answered today by Grover C. Furr, Jr., General Chairman of the public campaign which is being held this month ot finance additions to the hospital, provide more beds and and bassinettes and improvement and increase in facilities in the present buildings.

"First of all" he said, "it is important to remember that since this hospital started, in a small house, 50 years ago only one addition has been made. The money for this came from the apply capital. this came from the only capital fund raising programme organized by the hospital since it was tounded.

"In the last ten years the population of the 18 Lakeshore areas served by the Hospital has almost doubled. Today, 123,000 persons live in these 18 communities." Seventy-six percent of our patients come from these 18 areas.

come from these 18 areas.

Using a very simple explanation, Mr. Fur said, "we are trying to provide services for almost double the number of people in space, with accommodation and Incilities which have not been increased in ten years.

"Hospital experts tell us we should have 584 beds for the Lakeshore area alone in order to protect the community adequately. We only have 243 of which 76 are mour hospital. In other words the Lakeshore areas have less than one-half the beds needed.

our hospital. In other wores the Lakeshore areas have less than one-half the beds needed.

Construction of two new hospitals, in the Lakeshore area is being planned but from one to five years will pass before these can be expected to reduce the shortage of beds. In that period Lachine General will have to meet increasing demands. That, in itself, is one more compelling reason why our expansion programme is so important. It must be remembered that we expect to have the additional neds available as quickly as construction can be completed after this campaign.

"Today it is not uncommon for Lachine General Hospital to have 60 to 70 seriously ill persons awaiting admission daily. Why? Because all our beds are occupied. And, today, we are crowding more beds into rooms than foreseen when these rooms were designed.
"In addition, the Hospital has to be prepared for emergencies all the time. It is quite common for the hospital to admit anywhere from five to 20 emergency cases in a day representing accidents in in-the hospital to admit anywhere from five to 20 emergency cases in a day representing accidents in in-dustrial plants, in the home, auto crashes on the Metropolitan Boule-vard. And the space available for emergency treatments is no bigger than a large living room.

"We have other problems. Our materaity section and women's medical ward, are far too small and in the 50-year old non fire-proof buildings.

This, then, is a situation which affects everyone who lives on the Lakeshore. No one knows when Hospitalization becomes a matter Hospitalization becomes a matter of life and death ... it is happening every defy. But, if see do not have sufficient of the superior of the s sed tedy-disals to and wound this area. We feel we can raise this money, if every individual will consider the problem for a few minutes and give generously.

"How much should individuals give? That is a question which only the individual can answer. We suggest relating it to income and according to the guide to giving included in our pamphlet. This outlines how gifts can be spread over a five-year period and the net cost after income tax deductions.

"In this connection an illustration may be helpful. If a person buys one package of cigarettes a day, he spends around $730 in five years. If only, 1,500 gave the equivalent we should collect over $1,000,000. And none of those 1500 would be hurt in the pocket book if the payments were divided say, into would be burt in the pocket book if the payments were divided say, into monthly instalments.

"This is, and must be a com-munity effort. We must rely on the goodwill of the people in the area this hospital serves. It must ex-pand otherwise the hospital will not be able to treat all who need not be able to treat all who need its services.

"We who are connected with this appeal frevently hope everyone will give this campaign the serious study it deserves and remember what hinges on the success of the ap-peal."

Dr. Peter Pare spoke briefly on some of the aspects of the new school and discussed the blueprints with parents after the meeting.

The nominating committee pre-sented to the meeting a slate of officers which was accepted by members. Officers for the new

THREE DORVAL STUDENTS WIN HONOURS IN COMMMONWEALTH ESSAY CONTEST

PAT HURDLE

Three Dorval students were guests of the Royal Commonwealth Association at a dinner held at the Windsor Hotel last week, for winners in the Commonwealth Essay Contest. All three were honorable mention winners, Pamelo Douse, doughter of Mr. And Mrs. R.C. Douse, Part Hurdle, doughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hurdle, and Bill Ballantyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Douse, Part Hurdle, doughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hurdle, and Bill Ballantyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ballantyne.

Pamela, 15, attends Convent of the Socred Heart, the tille of her essay was "How the Raw Materials of the Commonwealth affect Our Lives." Her hobbies include tennis, skating, sewing and sketching, Part Hurdle who has gained recent attention in Figure Skating, is 14 years of age and attends Lachine High School. She wrote on "The Trans-Arctic Expedition."

For Bill Ballantyne the Commonwealth Essay Contest Mention crowned a series of distinctions this year. He was named Hoad Prefect at Selwyn House School, and recently after writing special competition examinations was awarded the Kane Scholarship to Bishaps College School, a valuable scholarship which carries deserving students through senior matriculation standing. To round out the accomplishments of this term he received Selwyn House's top athletic award, the Victor Laudorum Trophy at the school track meet, emerging as the first competitor to place first in five open events.

Plans For New High School

Two commissioners from the Dorval Catholic School Commission Dr. Peter Pare and Mr. Guy Pager, Dr. Peter Pare and Mr. Guy Pager, were on hand last week at a meet-ing of the St. Veronica's Parent Teachers Association to discuss with members plans for the new Catholic High School in Dorval. Mr. Guy rigin scnool in Dorval, Mr. Guy Pager revealed that prelliminary sketches of the proposed high scho-ol have been submitted to author-itles in Quebec; plans provide for a joint French and English speaking school, to be constructed on former Elmridge Golf Course land. Labor-tiories. symming pool, aymnasitories, swimming pool, gymnas-ium, theatre hall, and other spec-ialized facilities are included in ialized facilities are included in the plans.

Mr. Pager stated that the commission hoped to clear plans with Quebec at an early date, and to obtain a Provincial contribution of 60% of the cost of the one million dollar school. Such progress would assure a start on the building this year and completion in 1961. Problems in the planning involve seperate facilities for French and English speaking students, further complicated by seperation of boys and girls according to stipulations made by Quebec governiations made by Quebec governiations. ulations made by Quebec govern-ment and church authorities.

FROM IRELAND

I was very impressed to find that even the smallest towns on the re-mote coast of Northern Ireland treat mote coast of Northern Ireland treat their sewage before allowing the effluent to run into the vast Atlan-tic Ocean. The local-people found it hard to believe that we dump our untreated sewage into a small body of water like Lake St. Louis, body of water like Lake St. Louis, and they were absolutely astounded to hear that a huge city like Montreal has not a single sewage disposal plant. They find this rather inconsistent with our reputation for modern plumbing which tion for modern plumbing which has become confused in some minds with cleanliness.

Incidentally, the villages and towns here are a model of clean-liness with tidy streets and bright new paint on the houses, both in-side and on the shining exteriors. They are extremely fastidious in the appearance of their homes and gardens and justly proud of their personal dress and manners. They are also the friendliest and most hospitable people in the world and always seem particularly happy to meet visitors from Canada.

Ireland has had a most unhappy history of strife and division and I was very pleased to find that there is a growing tendency to forget political differences, particularly in the field of sport. A shining example of this was to be seen in the recent horse-show at Balmoral where North and South forgot their differences in their mutual love and admiration for fine horses and good admiration for tine notices and good horsemanship.

The spirit of true sportsmanship as exemplified here could do a lot to bring peace to this troubled world, and our group of parliamentary representatives from all parts of our vast Commonwealth were the transpared by the potentialians. impressed by the potentiali-

I have heard some complaints in the United Kingdom that Canada is not doing all she could to establish here identity here as a trading nation. Australia, it is claimed, is running away from us in the public relations field. I have not the comparative statistics available to me while on this tour but I certainly intend to dig them out on my return to Canada. I must admit I was very disappointed to find Canada not even represented at the ada not even represented at the magnificent industrial fair held in Belfast last week. Australia had a fine booth with a big display of her exports, together with a bevy of beautiful Australian salesgirls who kept the cash registers ringing with the sale of Australian fruit, well indentified as to its origin. I was continually embarrassed by being asked why Canada had so obviously missed the boat. I sincerely hope that our Department of Trade and Commerce will be able to prove to me that this case was the exception rather than the rule in regard to the efforts of Canada House to sell our products abroad.

It is always instructive to meet people who have visited Canads and to ask them what impressed them most. One lady I met will never forget an Inn in the Laurentians where goats nibble the real grass growing on the roof. Obviously she was referring to Mont Gabriel.

The magnificent new Waterloo Bridge in London was financed 75% by the state and 25% by the municipality on the grounds that it carries a great deal of traffic that originates outside the City, as will most of the traffic on our new Mettopolitan Boulevard.

Phys. Ed. Festival at Joubert School

A festival of Physical Education was held last week at Joubert School under the direction of Miss Claire Charbonneau, graduate of the Cecil Grenier Institute of Physical Education, the University of Montreal School of Physical Education, and of the Ecole Populaire de Gymnastique le Lillsved, Sweden. Students from grades two to eleven displayed their training in gymnastics, folk dancing and games, Clad in the newly adopted uniforms, white blouses and bright blue gym skirts, the classes displayed evidence of intensive training, and immense enjoyment of the complicated folk dances from many lands. The exercise began with 'the carrying of the torch' by four high school students, performing a traditional ritual associated with games and trails through the centuries.

Trophies were given to the following students: 8th grade - Louise Lupien; 9th grade - Janine Deposle; 10th grade - Simone Provost; 11th grade - Louise Claude; ping-pong - Suzame Labreche; badminton - Sylvie Dioron; vollet-ball - Andree Paquin.

In her introduction to the festival Miss Charbonneau stated that the display was organized to show how physical education benefits body and character alike. All students participated, but in the true spirit of gymnastic training.

Shop In Dorval

No city in Canada is better equipped to serve its shoppers. Everything from a teething ring to the latest model car is Just a hop, skip and a jump away from wherever you live in Canada's Garden City -- and better still, prices are lower while quality is top flight whether you patronite one of the two magnificent shopping centres or the enterprising corner merchant.

And remember: When you shop in Dorval you strike a blow for the individual taxpayer, yourself. Business and sales taxes make up a considerable pontion of the City's revenue, and the more sales your local merchant makes, the better off the Dorval taxpayerwill be in the long run. Make 1960 a "Shop in Dorval" year. Save money - save time - and, best of all, patronize the man who takes a personal interest insecting that you get full value for your consumer dollar: The Dorval Merchant.

DORVAL DAY has been set for June 25 this year. The later scheduling should entice the sun to shine on the best our city has to offer, displayed in floats and accompanied by Music and marchers, in Parade Day. The big day will decide which of several lovely candidates willbe named Miss Dorval. Dorval Jaycees are in charge of Dorval Day Planning.

MONEY AND KINDNESS: There has been an overwhelming response to the Catholic Lakeshore Committee for World Refugee Year drive. A total sufficient to bring one family to Canada has already been raised. More than money has gone into the campaign. Personal interest is shown in the offer of one lakeshore resident to supply an apartment at a reduced rate, the promise of a job by another resident, the offer of medical services for a year by a lakeshore physician. The penny jars for refugees given to Sunday School members of Dorval United Church have brought in a sum of over 8300.

STRATEGY IN THE CHURCH FOYER. The number 20 may not have STRATEGY IN THE CHURCH FOYER. The number 20 may not have meant anything last Saturday, but on Sunday curious parishioners at Dorval United Church who queried the significance of the big 20 signs found that the figure indicated the number of Sunday School teachers and assistants required by the Sunday School. At a "Meet the Sunday School Teacher" coffee session after the morning church service, two things were accomplished. Many parents met the teachers of their children for the first time — — and the ones who asked about the big number 20 led right into the second purpose of the coffee party, the drive for Sunday School teachers. Nice touch to the strategy — — china cups instead of naper ones; as the Sunday School Superintendent, Mr. G. Townsend said, it is pretty hard for anyone to sneak out of a church foyer, carrying a cun and saucer!

THE JET AGE now figures in school planning. This was evident in the questions asked at the recent meeting regarding the new Catholic Iligh School. Sample query, "Will the new school building be sound-preofed against the noise of the jets flying almost directly over the site? (The land for the new school lies between Marcil and Dawson on the former Elmridge Golf Course location). A sign of the times was also indicated in the planned co-existence of French and English speaking students at Iligh School level, with common-sense sharing of expensive facilities such as gymnasiumand alboratories etc. Interesting concept of the school as a community centre was enlarged by Mr. Guy Pager. An enthusiastic supporter of the idea, he pointed out that adults should have the use of libraries, lecture halls and gymnasiums of the schools to maintain fullest community use of school buildings.

LADIES DAY OUT plans are already underway for next year's Y programme. New toys have been collected to keep small fire occupied while their mothers are occupied with the sessions. The "Keep Fit" theme will yield next year to a stressing of "Fun and Figure," emphasizing the refreshing aspect of the Ladies Day Out project, a morning out for mothers of small children, with exercises for the figure and stimulation for the mind in lectures and demonstrations.

INTHE NEWS. The Dorval Cub Packs will try out their camping skills at a weekend camp session. Camp Anderson this month . . . . A cub pack at St. Veronica is been organized for next year.

The raising of the Elmer Safety Flag at St. Veronica's has unfortunately been postponed by another accident. If it appears that there are more accidents lately perhaps we are paying more attention to Safety!

The plants of Sandoz, Mount Royal Chemicals, C.I.B.A. referred to as "Pharmaceutical Row" in a recent Montreal Star Supplement, "Sixty Years of Progress in Quebec." In the Mailbag, Macleans Magazine, June 18, there was a letterfrom a Dorvalite, J.J. Burnham, After reading "Advertising in the Classroom" Maclean's, May 21, (an article on advertising slogan booklets used in classrooms mentioned is this column recently), he has written, "Root them out, the lot of them and take the advertiser "policemen" school guards at the same time."

Miss Marion Ballantyne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ballantyne, not allowing her brother Bill to reap all the honors this year (see article on Essay Contest Winners, this issue), has topped her year at Bishop's University with an average of 82.1%.

Miss Suzanne Gauvin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W.H. Gauvin, wan awarded an Honors Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry at Mariano-polis College.

Miss Susan Grout is the candidate from St. Stephen's High School for the Hi-Teen Queen Title; is selection is to be made from fianlists re-resenting 35 Montreal and District High Schools of one girl who will relign during the coming year as C.J. A. D.'s HI-FI Club Hostess.

Miss Valerie Coraish was pictured recently in the Montreal Stur with Lachine High School Students, Heather Alexander, James Bourne, Mary-Jean Martin, Susan Fallows, The students are part of a group who will see Canada this year in an interesting cross-countrytrip byrail and bont.

TRIBUTE TO TEACHERS. Quebec took note of the words of Dr. O.J. Desaudniers, Superintendent of Education for Quebec. He pointed out that the important role of a teacher lies in the imparing of knowledge, but in the awakening in students of a desire to learn. "You can't shape men and women from the outside. You have to start something burning inside. All the fine art of teaching is there. And it is rare!" As the school term draws to an end, it is time to pause and think of the fine teachers and leaders of youth groups in our community who possess this very gift, and to take time to appreciate them.

Great interest has been shown towards the Girls' Softball League, which has been organized this year.

Our Juniors won their June 15th Opening Game against Strathmore by a score of 17 - 5.

Unfortunately, the Seniors did not fare so well; losing each two games by margin of 1 run, despite the powerful hitting of the Wray sisters.

Jim Greenshields' Little League Red Sox Team, made up of Windsor Gardens Boys, started the Season Opener on Saturday. May 28th, against the Tigers by an 8 - 7 score. On Thursday, June 2nd, they beat the Giants 7 - 0. Jim Cheshire pitched a no-hitter and Godfrey Greenshields hit a homer and a triple with the bases loaded, in both cases. Come and support your Teams at the following games:Thursday, June 9 - Pirates vs.

Last Saturday, May 28th, saw plenty of hustle and bustle around

A "stroke" by the way is the person in the stern of the boat who sets the pace which the others in the boat must follow (1) Jerry Weiss (2) Don Nicholl (3) Don Neilsen Special mention should also be given to those two stalwagts, Charlie Adams and Phili Grant who worked so hard to make the reggats a success.

The dance that evening turned out to be a "whopper" which taxed the capacity of our dance hall. The jazzy orchestra had every one rolling and we hope to have them back again.

As mentioned in the previous news letter, the Lake St. Louis

Anglers sent a delegation to the Megratory Game Bird Assoc, meeting and we hope to have their report ready for our next issue.

The "Suggestion Boxes" have now been installed and hope a member with a constructive suggestion or idea about our club should jot it down on paper and deposit same in these boxes.

The water level in Lake St. Louis is gradually receding and the fishing should correspondingly improve. Remember that worms may now be bought at the club and we kope to have a supply of minnows on hand soon.

Members will notice that the club trophies have all been polished up and are now on display in the dance hall. Anglers who would like to see their names graved on some of them should make an oxua.

WHAT'S TO DO IN JUNE?

WHAT'S TO DO IN JUNE?

Well, there's gardening to begin with, and that includes frequent lawnmowing. There's belated housecleaning, but probably the event which was most enjyed by most Montrealers last week, in town that is, was the Fete des Fleura, which has been staged for the past nine years by the Women's Committee of the Museum of Fine Art. It is the great money-making event of the year by the Committee and every cent of the proceeds is turned back into the Museum to benefit us, the Public. Though it apecial exhibits and new purchases are financed by the enterprising Women's Art Committee.

For two days the somewhat staid old museum becomes a vertiable bower of biles, with masses of roses in every he decorating the foyer, and the balustrades of the stately staircase are hidden behind a delightful facade of gay houses, each with its window box, filled with scarlet geraniums. As the Fete des Fleure is for the most part, comprised of entries offloral arrangements in fifteen classes, considerable ingenuity is displayed in choosing the background best suited to the particular display in question. This year, the fete was held against the background of the Centenary Exhibition, and charming indeed it was to see arrangements ofdriedflowers, which we automatically associate with Victoriana, displayed amid a collection of furniture and bric-a-brac of the last hundred years. What better setting could have been found for the Classical Urn than the upper foyer surrounding the stairdase.

Particularly ingenious were the displays arranged "In a Frying Pan." One would caver guess just how many different kinds of frying pansthere are. One was scarlet outside and white enamel inside, in which reposed three pure white pebbles and an eye-catching bouquet of geraniums, begonias and red barbary, all of whose reds harmonized delightfully. Who would think of arranging shives in full bloom? One lady competing in the "One Variety of Flowers" Class, and won a prize with them.

Great fun were the hats made of fresh flowers, most exot

CHEKHOV FESTIVAL -- A GLOOMY EVENING

Ever been to the Theatre Club of St. Luke? If not, a unique experience awaits you. On a warm evening the audience swarms into the street at intermission. Those who leave by the side door trip over the props which have been used in the first act of the play. There is nowhere else to store them. The box office is under the stairs, and if there are wings on the tiny stage they must be about one foot wide. There is a mezzanine approached by a spiral staircase and this was being used for lighting for the performance of "Unice Vanya" which I saw on a warm Friday evening. It is alternated with "The Cherry Orchard" for this week's Chekhov Festival, and if you munt to get an inkling of life in Russis sixty odd years ago, through the eyes of Anton Chekhov, you could do worse than watch the Festival Theatre present action.

Starting with a coal-black set, dimly lighted, is one way of commanding attention by being different, and judging from the appearance of the audience, the peoplete whom these shows were geared are avant garde. Some rather clever changes were rung on this basic set, roses and a trellis for the garden, a variety of swags in brocaded materials for the various rooms in the house. Lydia Randolph deserves special mention for the costumes, restrictedly those of the two young women. Sows and Yelena, Criffith Breaked is in turn loved by Sonya gave a grippingly realistic performance. It was Sonya played by Sarah Moffatt, however, who brought light out of darkness and lent sparkle and pathos to an otherwise mediocre production. Having recently had first-hand experience with theatrical gunfire, I should like to say that the theatre blanks recommended as superior in "Petrified Forest," sound like paper bags popping in the distance and are unconvincing on stage.

Act I was the weakest of the four acts. The play built gradually, seeming to convince the actors in spite of themselves that they were taking part in something great, until Act IV schieved, thanks to Miss Moffatt, that d

In cooperation with the Northern Affairs Department, the FWIC is sending Mrs. Wm. Hough of Stratford, Ont., to carry its homemaking projects to the women of the Northen settlements. The Indian mothers will learn methods of caring for their homes and children with the tools at hand; the town mothers will, in addition, find projects to fill their leisure time. Truly, the theme of this venture will be "Start where you are with what you have". Thus a fuller and richer way of life will be carried to our frontier land by the Women's Institute, which has contributed to the welfare of isolated communities around the world, ever since its inception at Stoney Creek in 1897.
