

Why we are backing Chris

Chris & Sheila Gates

Local business owners

We've known Chris Jones for years through his community work and know him to be a thoroughly decent bloke. The fact that he is willing to put his career to one side and stand on a Labour ticket championing the NHS and mental health in particular speaks for itself. We have no doubt that if elected he will be an approachable and active local member for all of us.

Dave Coombes

Big C shop manager

I have known Chris for some years and I truly believe that he is the ideal candidate to represent all of the constituents in Broadland. To have his experience of working in the NHS and an in-depth knowledge of the wider business and social issues is invaluable and a great asset. Chris also has great compassion for people and is able to see the viewpoints of others whilst not losing sight of the key issues. His strong desire and commitment to make a difference to people's lives is why I will be voting for him and the Labour Party.

Nicci Aldous

Mental health nurse

A lot of people say that politics needs to change, but we'll never get that by voting for the same old candidates. I've worked with Chris in the NHS and I know that he will be a different sort of MP - one with real experience of the issues facing us and interested in making a difference for everyone, not just in a political career. That's why I'm voting Labour in 2015.

If you choose Chris, Labour will:

- ✓ Give the NHS Time to Care and put patients before profits. Labour will repeal the Health & Social Care Act to stop the creeping privatisation of the NHS
- ✓ Increase the Minimum Wage to £8 per hour. Labour will do this so people in work don't have to rely on benefits. We will also end the abuse of exploitative zero-hours contracts
- ✓ Build more affordable homes in the right place. Labour wants to make sure that everyone has a decent home with suitable infrastructure.
- ✓ Cap energy prices and tackle the cost-of-living crisis. Labour will reform the energy market so that afterwards you get a better deal.
- ✓ Guarantee access to childcare from 8am - 6pm for all primary school children and increase the free childcare available to working parents of 3-4 year olds from 15 to 25 hours a week.

ELECTION COMMUNICATION

Because not all politicians are the same

Dear Elector
In the last five years I've seen the NHS I work in broken up and fragmented. Compulsory tendering destroys joined-up care and forces different parts of the service to compete against each other instead of cooperating.

Transaction costs and legal fees spiral higher and higher, diverting funds away from patient care and when the going gets tough private companies walk away from contracts - as Circle Healthcare did at Hinchingbrooke recently.

And mental health continues to get an unfair deal - only 11% of spending to deal with 23% of health need, and suffering more than its fair share of cuts over the last 5 years. Labour is committed to a better deal for mental health and I will hold them to that promise.

Our NHS provides some of the best quality healthcare in the world, at much lower cost than in other countries. Don't let another Tory government destroy it.

Paying down the deficit fairly

David Cameron and George Osborne have broken their promise to balance the books by 2015. Instead they have borrowed more in four years than Labour did in 13 with a large deficit set to remain.

We promise that every manifesto commitment will be fully funded with no additional borrowing.

People like you and me are paying for a crisis caused by the banks with the average British worker £1,600 a year worse off.

Labour will balance the books and will do this fairly, by reversing the Tory tax cut for millionaires, scrapping pension tax relief for those earning more than £150,000 and closing tax loopholes that the super rich benefit from.

PROOF

Immigration that works for Britain

Britain has a proud tradition of welcoming immigrants who bring so much to our society. I have never worked in a hospital that could have functioned without the dedication of overseas doctors and nurses. But Labour also know that immigration needs to be properly managed. That's why we will tighten up gangmaster rules to prevent a race to the bottom on wages and conditions, press for EU structural funding to support communities with high migration and introduce longer waiting periods for out-of-work benefits.

Ed Miliband - standing up for everyone

Ed Miliband is the only leader who stands up to vested interests on behalf of ordinary people. He:

- stands up to multinational and non-dom tax avoiders
- stands up to the banks over bonuses and rigged markets
- stands up to the energy companies over rip-off prices
- stands up to the tabloid press over phone hacking.

Ed Miliband will be the Prime Minister who stands up for us all against a privileged few.

Protecting the environment now and in the future

Global warming, climate change, and fuel insecurity are major threats to us all. Labour will:

- Strengthen the Green Investment Bank to support a high-tech green economy

- Create 1 million green jobs over ten years

- Set binding targets for decarbonising electricity generation

- Prioritise flood protection and introduce a climate change adaption plan.

David Cameron used to say "Vote Blue, get Green". Now voters know that a vote for Labour is the only way to get a green government.
