"I enjoy reading the books of first time authors. Most of the time it is met with disappointment. In the case of the Bluff City Butcher I was pleasantly surprised as I could not put the book down once I began to read. The author, Stephen Bradshaw, had me turning pages looking forward to the next encounter and how this forensic mystery would eventually be solved? I could tell that the author had also a great understanding and experience in forensic medicine as well as business and it came through in this expletive writing. I would recommend this to all who enjoy a forensic thriller and encourage everyone to get the chance to read the first works of a new author that knows what he is writing about..."
