

South Mountain Defense

National Train A Teacher Day Saturday June 18, 2022

This free one-day event will give teachers an opportunity to learn about self-defense from an individual and teacher's perspective. From a teacher's perspective we will cover school security, evacuation considerations, active shooter situations.

From the individual perspective, we will show and demonstrate a variety of self-defense alternatives. Unarmed self-defense, and various less than lethal options will be shown. Students will be given a chance to try some of the various methods.

The last part of the class will deal with firearms. This section is totally optional; for those interested in getting a firearm or already have one and may be looking for ore information. We have a variety of Chaos Training Solutions training weapons as well as a variety of real firearms students may try.
