Strathmore Junior Girls Team, Dorval East Pony team, and Windsor Gardens Pony Tail team were top teams of the season.

Dorval C Of C Appoint Chairmen

One new member was welcomed by the meeting in the person of Bill Nilsson who has been active in the affairs of the Chamber for some time but as the representative of the Junior Chamber of which he is the past president.

Among the immediate projects of the Chamber are continued efforts to improve transportation facilities to and from Montreal, a "light up for Christmas" campaign for Lakeshore Drive and continued efforts toward the combating of water pollution.

TAXES AND FINANCES SUBJECT OF CIVIC FORUM ADDRESS BY ALDERMAN GILLES DORE

A highly interesting talk on "Municipal Finance and Taxation" delivered by Alderman Gilles Dore featured the third session of the Civic Affairs Forum currently being sponsored by the Dorval Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A good portion of Mr. Dore's address dealt with that important cost control tool -- the budget.

Courtland Park H. & S. Hold Second Meeting

Physical Education was the theme of the second general meeting of the Courtland Park Home and School Association held on November 22nd. Three very interesting films demonstrating the use of gymnasium apparatus and skills that can be achieved at the elementary school level were shown.

Mr. E.S. Thomas, The Principal, described the program for grades one and two. Mr. L.H. McGregor, Physical Education Instructor, explained very thoroughly the work covered by grades three to seven. A brief discussion period followed.

The next general meeting Hobby Night, will be held on Wednesday, January 18th.

While there are many definitions of this magic word, the one chosen by the speaker read as follows: "A municipal budget is a realistic allotment of sums of money to be spent, in the next 12 months, by each department of a municipal corporation, in rendering to the citizens the services they need. The total expenses being equal to the total income to be provided by the taxpayers, considering their ability and their willingness to pay."

Mr. Dore outlined the steps taken by each department in the preparation of their expense estimates for the coming year, pointing out that they are carefully checked by the City Manager and Treasurer before they reach the Council Chamber for final approval. "It is at this stage that members of the City Council representing the taxpayers are called upon to exercise sound reasoning and judgment if they are to come up with a budget that will suit the needs of the population according to its taste, its preferences, its age, its standard of education, and above all its willingness to pay," said the speaker.

"To form an opinion on your needs is not an easy task," he added. "Are we to spend money on swimming pools or anti-pollution on better snow-clearing and garbage removal, or on skating rinks; on more playgrounds or on more water for the lawns, to name but a few."

Mr. Dore then went on to explain the various expense classifications, pointing out that at least one third of the expense budget goes to the repayment of capital bonds issued by the city and the payment of interest on these bonds. Approximately 25 per cent of the budget is allocated to Public Works, while the balance covers general administration, fire and police protection, recreation services, operation of the filtration plant, engineering services, etc.

Switching from the expense to the revenue budget, Mr. Dore outlined the major sources of city revenues; i.e., general taxes collected from taxpayers based on the valuation of their properties; local improvement taxes collected from bordering owners of streets where the services are not paid for (this tax pays the loan charges applicable to the cost of these services); the city's share of the 6% sales tax, mostly collected by the retail stores in Dorval; water taxes and business taxes, etc.

Since the general tax is collected on the basis of the valuation roll, the speaker went on to explain how assessed values are determined in Dorval, how the comparison of taxes between different municipalities is difficult unless the same standards and circumstances apply in each case, how each citizen's assurance of a fair valuation of his property is protected through an independent Board of Revision, how the proportion of industrial and commercial properties in relation to the residential area affects the distribution of the tax load, etc.

Mr. Dore also gave a short dissertation on some of the factors which have to be considered when evaluating the credit standing and financial stability of a municipality.

In concluding his talk, Mr. Dore congratulated the Junior Chamber on their Civic Forum Series. He felt these discussions created an interest in municipal affairs, and promoted a knowledge of facts, which knowledge "is the basis condition of sound judgment being held by honest citizens."

Said Mr. Dore, "Citizens who know facts and are able to analyze them are still the only guarantee of sound democratic government at any level."

Surrey Gardens Christmas Concert

The Surrey Gardens Home and School Association are holding their second Annual Christmas Concert in the Auditorium of the School on December 7, 1960, at 7:45 p.m. The program for the evening will consist of the School choir under the direction of Mrs. E. Jones, assisted at the piano by Mrs. A. Smiley. The Choir is made up of 35 voices from Grades Five, six and seven. Our Guest Choir for the evening will be the Lachine Alumni Singers under the direction of Mr. Ted McLearn, Music Teachers of the School, assisted at the piano by Miss Jean Meacock. The Lachine Alumni Singers are graduates of Lachine High School who were members in the group and they rehearse regularly at the school on Wednesday evenings and on Saturday morning. Since the group was formed two years ago, they have sung as guest choir at the Annual Choral Concert at the School and have taken first place both years at the National Music Festival organized by the University of Montreal. An Annual Christmas concert at the school has been organized by the choir. Combined with the Singers the choir sang at the Mountain Chalet; and again at the Gals Show at the Forum in aid of the Place des Armes Campaign. A recording of the choir was made this summer at R.C.A. Victor. During the intermission we hope to have a Community Sing-song.

I'm not going anywhere - just came out to see what seven years and and - - - million dollars looks like

John Pratt says

The residents of the County of Jacques Cartier-LaSalle will probably have read by now the extremely good news that the federal government is going to bring in legislation which will assist municipalities to meet the expense of building much-needed sewage disposal plants. After fighting for this cause for so long it seems almost unbelievable that we are now to receive assistance to combat the pollution of Lake St. Louis and other waters surrounding the Island of Montreal.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has, for many years, been very much concerned with the problem of water pollution due to his unfortunate experiences with an inter-provincial river which flows past his own hometown. However, since Mr. Diefenbaker became Prime Minister he has had thousands of other problems come across his desk, and the residents of this County will be glad to know that it was mainly due to their efforts in writing letters and sending petitions on an organized basis that this matter was kept constantly before the Prime Minister and the members of his Cabinet. There was a time, not too long ago, when I almost despaired of getting people to write these letters, but when they did commence they did a very creditable job in making written requests from individuals and organizations in every part of this riding. The results have now been achieved and the credit is very properly theirs. This has been a very good example of what organized public opinion can do in speeding up the actions of government in problems where help is urgently needed. It is now up to the cities and towns to seek an early statement from the provincial assistance available immediately so that this very necessary work can start as soon as possible.

The federal offer consists of lending two-thirds of the money required to the municipalities at a low interest over a long-term such as granted for limited dividend housing. These terms run, at present, in the neighbourhood of 5-1/8% for fifty years. For all work which is finished by April 1963 the government will write off 25% of the loan which will, in effect, amount to a federal grant of one-sixth of the total cost. This would leave a loan of one-half the cost to be paid off, and it is to be hoped that the provincial government will see its way clear to take over this 50% as its share of the costs. This would leave the municipalities to bear the final one-third of the expense involved, which would be a very fair share under the circumstances.

If all the municipalities are willing to take advantage of this offer there is every hope that people will be able to enjoy once again the pleasure of swimming in Lake St. Louis.

CIVIC AFFAIRS

The following is the text of Mayor Pratt's Radio Broadcast, last Sunday

On Saturday morning, last, the members of Council held their first meeting with the recently re-organized Joint Committee of Dorval civic associations.

This Joint Committee has been re-organized at the request of the Dorval City Council to bring about a better dissemination of information on municipal affairs among the general public.

It is hoped by this means to avoid the ridiculous misunderstandings and rumours that are sometimes spread among the public on matters of municipal concern. The taxpayer has the right to know how his business is being handled and the City of Dorval has taken the extraordinary step of inviting a Joint Committee of all its municipal organizations to send two delegates every week, not only to attend the public council session, but to be present at private committee meetings as well, so that reputable citizens will have a complete inside view of what actually takes place in these discussions. They will thus be in a position to refute rumours and deliberate distortions of the truth, such as are far too often current in periods immediately preceding a municipal election.

It is absolutely essential to the success of this plan that such a Joint Committee be kept completely unpolitical and that no individual or pressure groups be permitted to take advantage of its privileges for the furtherance of their own political aims.

Letters To The Editor

Following is a letter received by the Editor with a request to print in this column:-

Mr. R. John Pratt, M.P., Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

To say that the water pollution control measures proposed by our Canadian Government did not come as a surprise to me would be like saying that our Lake St. Louis is not polluted. I believe that credit should be given where it is due. Therefore, may I, on behalf of the members of the Lake St. Louis Anglers Inc., congratulate you for the part that you quite obviously played in convincing the Federal Authorities that they should recognize and act upon their share of the responsibility for the control of pollution.

My only hope is that the Lake St. Louis North Shore Municipalities will now go ahead with the construction of the long overdue sewage treatment plants. With Federal assistance and also that which may soon be available from Quebec, there appears to be no reasons for further delay.

I have just received from the Ontario Water Resources Commission figures on sewage treatment costs that I believe should be very encouraging to the taxpayers. Average costs, including repayment of capital and operating of complete activated sludge plants, payable over a period of 30 years, is only 30 to 35 cents per week for an average family. These costs, as you can see, amount to considerably less than community swimming pool family membership fees.

If our Organization can be of any help to bring about a cooperative North Shore Municipalities pollution control program, you need only suggest how we may do so.

May I again assert our confidence in you as a Parliamentarian and once more congratulate you for your success in your Anti-Pollution Campaign.

Yours Truly,

W. G. McHugh
 Chairman of the Anti-Pollution Committee.

airs is a very general and long-standing fault. The Jr. Chamber of Commerce, at the suggestion of the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, has organized a course in municipal affairs which is now being held every Thursday night at St. Louis School, in Dorval. At the first meeting last week there were only about thirty people present out of a population of some sixteen thousand. Or these thirty over a dozen were representatives of City Hall and the Boy Scouts' Association. This left less than twenty adults interested enough to turn out and even some of these were there as friends of the Jaycees, the sponsoring organization.

It is possible that the re-organized Joint Committee of civic associations may be able to spark a greater interest on the part of the general public in knowing more about the way in which their tax dollars are spent.

B. OF M. SETS NEW RECORDS

Bank of Montreal resources reached a new high during 1960 and new records were set in almost every phase of the bank's operations, according to its 143rd annual statement for the year ended October 31, issued today.

B of M assets rose more than $225 million to $3,485 million during the year, while loans in all categories maintained the 1959 peak of $1,773 million.

Total deposits were shown at $3,200 million, an increase of $202 million, or 6.7 per cent, from 1959, and were the highest in the bank's history. The expansion was largely attributable to Canadians' personal savings and to foreign deposits.

Quick assets of $1,771 million, or $193 million more than a year earlier, reflected the traditionally strong liquid position of the bank. This amount represents almost 54 per cent of all B of M liabilities to the public, against 51.6 per cent in 1959.

EARNINGS AT RECORD

Earnings before taxes were at the record figure of $31,578,780. But $17,352,044 — equal to 55 per cent — was earmarked for taxes, so that the net profit for the year's operations of more than 840 B of M offices at home and abroad was $14,226,736. This was $2,035,676 more than in 1959.

The bank's 21,000 shareholders are receiving $2.00 per share — or $12,148,167 of the year's net profit — 15 cents more than the 1959 figure of $1.85, and 35 cents more than the $1.65 paid in 1958.

The balance, plus $1,072,290 of undivided profits from 1959, comprised a total of $3,150,859. Of this amount, $2 million was transferred to the rest account, leaving current undivided profits of $1,150,859.

SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY UP

The transfer of $2 million from undivided profits brought the B of M's "rest" — or reserve — account to $141,850,000. This, plus paid-up capital of $60,750,000 and the remaining undivided profits, brought total shareholder's equity to the record figure of $203,750,859.

A sharp increase of more than 18 per cent in the statement's valuation of B of M premises — from $47 million in 1959 to more than $55 million — reflected completion of the bank's new head-office building in Montreal, as well as the continuing rapid pace of branch extension and modernization.

If pedestrians had eyes in the back of their heads, it would not be so important to walk on the left side of the road. Since they don't it is most necessary to observe this cardinal rule of pedestrian safety. The Royal Automobile Club reports that 19 per cent of all pedestrian deaths in rural areas involve persons walking in the roadway. Chances are that many of these deaths would not have occurred, if the victims had walked on the left side of the road — FACING traffic.

Always follow this rule yourself when walking in suburban areas, on the country roads or highways. You will live longer.

(This is one of a series of articles dealing with pedestrian safety prepared by the Royal Automobile Club of Canada in cooperation with its affiliate in the U. S. A., the American Automobile Association.)

and helps build a bright future for Canada — and himself

After he deducts college and living expenses from his part-time income, there's not much left for savings — yet this young man regularly deposits a small sum in his B of M savings account.

He is one of well over two million Canadians saving at the B of M. Their deposits run into billions.

But his part in the B of M's "deposits" is only half the picture.

WHAT'S HAPPENING TO HIS DEPOSIT?

Well, along with the deposits of the other two million, most of his money is being lent for both personal and business purposes — to pay medical bills, meet school expenses, buy modern appliances, build houses, buy tractors, improve farm buildings and cut lumber — to do a thousand and one things.

HOW?

Through hundreds of thousands of bank loans, the B of M is employing this young man's deposits, with many others, to finance the operations of business and industrial enterprises of all kinds and sizes . . . of farmers, fishermen, oilmen, miners, lumbermen and ranchers . . . of citizens of every calling . . . of community organizations and of provincial and municipal governments.

Yes, when you save money at the B of M, you not only keep it safe and earning interest for you, but you make a sound investment for yourself in Canada's growth now and in the years ahead.

THE "WINGED SKATE" SYMBOL of the Lachine Figure Skating Club will be doing some "flying" around the country in the next few weeks as publicity gets underway for the 50th Canadian Figure Skating Championships being held under the sponsorship of the Lachine Club, Jan. 25-27, 1961. It was interesting to talk to Mr. Fred G. Sutton, Chairman of the 1961 Champion Committee of the Canadian Figure Skating Association, and to Mr. H. Hurdle from Dorval, member of the Committee. Enthusiastic about the event, member of the Committee.

opportunity to see Canada's top skaters, in the wonderful and 26, and in the Forum on Jan. 27, they were discussing some aspects of this event.

This is the first time in twenty years that the championship has been held in the Montreal area.

The application to sponsor the event in 1961 was made two years ago by the Lachine Figure Skating Club.

From winners of this year's Canadian Champions, a team will be chosen by the Canadian Figure Skating Association to represent Canada in World's Championship, Czechoslovakia, early in 1961. In other words, North America and World Champions.

Skaters with their teachers and parents will come from all over with their combined membership of about 50,000.

The January Championships held in Lachine will be the "Chance of a Lifetime" opportunity to see the best skaters in Canada, in Canada's most impressive national skating event.

W. Sheehan To Discuss World Law

"One World or None" is the topic to be discussed at the Lakeshore Forum next Tuesday. Speaker is W.M. Sheehan of Montreal, who is president of the World Federalists of Canada, and he will show a short United Nations film on World Law. This film presents the care for world law and explains how it can guarantee world peace, with justice for all nations large and small.

Mr. Sheehan's talk will deal with how world law can be introduced to an international scene distinguished mainly by name-calling and fist-shaking, punctuated by the odd shooting war and an occasional piece of genuine co-operation.

As a man whose career has been concerned with international affairs of various types, Mr. Sheehan brings considerable first hand experience to his subject. Educated in Harvard law school, he practiced law in New York City during the thirties, then went down to Peru as attorney for the Pan American grace Airways. With the entry of the United States into the war he joined the Judge Advocate Division at the Headquarters of the U.S. Air Force, and followed up with a stint in the military government in Japan and Korea. He retired from military service in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Mr. Sheehan came to Montreal in 1947 as attorney to the International Transport Association. He is also legal advisor to I.A.T.A. traffic conferences which provide the rate-making machinery for 89 international airlines.

With this personal experience and a long-time close interest in broader areas of international affairs, Mr. Sheehan has learned, not only about the need for world co-operation, but also about what is required to develop and maintain such co-operation.

The meeting will be held in the Lakeshore Unitarian Church at 14 Cedar Avenue, Pointe Claire, at 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 6. The public is invited to hear Mr. Sheehan's talk and take part in the discussion.

I.O.D.E. Meeting

The Decourcelles Chapter of the I.O.D.E. Dorval, held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E.G. Farthing, Pointe Claire on Tuesday, November 15th. The Regent, Mrs. D.O. Stapleton was in the Chair. The Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved; reports were received from the Treasurer and Chairmen of Committees.

It was unanimously voted that donations should be sent to the Celiac Fund, Special Diet Fund, Overseas Fund, Korean Fund and Shipping Fund.

All members agreed to collect books for the Sailors Institute.

The Secretary reported that the sale of Christmas Cards and other items to assist the Chapter with the upkeep of their recently "adopted daughter", Jumlee Lee, was proving very successful.

The next meeting of the Chapter will be held on December 13th at the home of Mrs. A. Armstrong, Pine Beach, in the form of a Members Christmas Card Party. At this party gifts will be collected for patients in Mental Hospitals.

50TH ANNIVERSARY A number of Dorval Guide Leaders attended the Birthday Party which wound up the year-long 50th anniversary of Guiding celebrations. At the party, held in Dominion Douglas United Church in Westmount, Mrs. R.E. Stevert, Provincial Commissioner, spoke on the "History of Guiding." Highlight of the evening's entertainment was the "Hysterical Pageant" on the History and Future of Guiding which was written and produced by Mrs. C.B. Shipton, Strathmore Division Secretary. Guiders from each of the five provincial areas were responsible for scenes, with 75 participating. Rangers sang songs typical of each era, between scenes. Dollard area produced a sketch on the old Guide ruling of self-sufficiency (Guides had to be prepared to "live off the land" — know how to trap, skin and draw a rabbit). Out of the rabbit who starred in the skit was produced a suspiciously modern touch — yards and yards of red tape!

NOTEWORTHY The Lakeshore Artists are exhibiting at the Lachine Curling Club. . . . Loyola College is presenting "Oedipus/Rex" on Thursday and Friday evenings, Dec. 1 and 2, under the Direction of Father Laricy, S.J. (Director of Dramatics). Several Lakeshore students are in the group who have planned the production in the old traditional style. THE FILM FESTIVAL which will be held on Dec. 10 at Pine Beach Hall, sponsored by the Lakeshore Chapter of the Society for Emotionally Disturbed Children includes some intriguing films. One is "The Attack on the Eiffel Tower," the story of three mountaineers who decide to climb the tower: one is entitled "Rathmetic;" one is "Good For Nothing," an adventure with a chimpanzee. The admission is 45 cents for adults, and 35 cents for children, the time 3 o'clock.

MONORAIL In view of Mayor John Pratt's inquiry into monorail as a solution to transportation on the island of Montreal, it is interesting to note the article "French Experimental Monorail in Engineering Digest," November. The article describes an experimental line of one kilometer which has been built as a demonstration exhibit. The demonstrator car has a seating capacity of 32 and room for 91 standees. "The cost of the monorailway is said to be only about 1/6 of the cost of an underground railway." . . . In the accompanying article on Dorval, "Today Dorval is a full fledged city suburb struggling to retain a vestige of its old charm."

Comment on Sports

Last week we promised to publish "How to Study". All boys should read it, who want to be active in sports and good at school work too. But first, we have a couple of very important announcements!

Hockey is just around the corner and any Juvenile players (those born after Oct. 1, 1942) who are interested in playing hockey, should Phone Bruce Dick ME-10607.

The Award Night for the Dorval Minor Fast Ball League (Pee Wee and Bantam) will be held Dec. 1st at 8:30 p.m. at the Recreation Centre. Bruce Coalter and John Taylor of McGill University will be the guest speakers.

HOW TO STUDY

By Bill Milton, Atlanta, Ga. 12 year old member of the 1960 Pop Warner Kids' All America Team of Scholar-Athletes.

This year when I changed from public to private school, I really discovered the importance of knowing how to study. I found that I had to work hard to finish three or four hours of homework each night. To keep up my athletic program, I had to change my study habits! I had to study harder than ever before, and really settle down to work. I found that correct study habits involve pure concentration — no side-line TV or radio programs.

Some of Webster's definitions of study are "application of the mind to books or any subject for acquiring knowledge;" "earnest and reasoned effort and desire or thought."

To apply the mind to books or to fix your mind upon a subject, one which you are not completely interested in, is sometimes quite a chore, especially for a young boy whose mind keeps wandering to football fields, basket-ball courts, or a real good movie. But my parents have told me that I must have a good college education to acquire any success today. Thus, if my work is not at the proper level, I have to give up my outside activities.

Fortunately, I like to read and have learned quite a bit about concentration. So, if I settle down and make up my mind that my work must be completed, I find that time passes quickly and I can complete my work for the day in a limited time.

Studying is not an easy task. It takes a good deal of concentration on your work. After you arrive from school you should get some fresh air and exercise to clear your mind. Then have some refreshments consisting of cookies, milk, or an occasional soft drink before settling down to work.

You should then go to a quiet room away from all activity, find a suitable place, preferably a desk with a good light. Then comes the hard part — concentration.

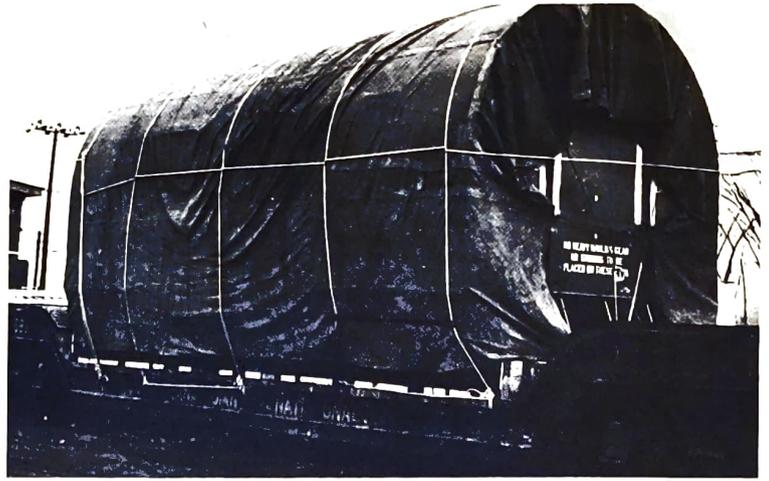

As you read or go over your different subject, such as science, French, algebra, history or English, one should take notes or make some kind of outline, also, finish one subject before going to another. After completing the notes or outline, go back over it and study each item until you know it perfectly. If you have some memorizing to be done, or a poem to learn, you should read it over about ten times and then start memorizing verse by verse. It will not take you long if you really do it correctly. When you have a report to do, you should not wait until the last minute. You should start right away and work on it some each night until it is done. Then it will take less effort to finish the report.

The written work is about the easiest part if you approach it right. After you have done about half of it, take a break for about ten minutes or so. Then go back to work and finish the rest of your studying.

It helps to be prepared in school. After all — studying is pure concentration. If one masters this, he has made a definite accomplishment and will be well prepared to meet his scholastic requirements.

Pine Beach Sports

Plans are well under way to get ready for a big hockey season coming up. The Pine Beach Citizens Association will organize Pee Wee, Mosquito, Bantam, and Midget teams in the newly formed Dorval Hockey League. We have lots of boys who want to play hockey but we urgently need some interested fathers to help out.

The heaviest single piece of equipment ever moved on Canadian National Railways' line left Montreal over the weekend for the Ontario Hydro Commission's new Lakeview generating plant near Port Credit, Ont. Weighing 176 tons, a "Stator", which is the inner core of an electrical generator was shipped from England and loaded on a railway car at Sorel, Que., the only port in eastern Canada with a crane big enough to lift the part.

Three other pieces, weighing a total of 135 tons, joined the Stator at the CNR's Turcot yard to form a special train to Port Credit.

JUVENILE HOCKEY OFFERED 1,000

Phone calls, queries, headaches etc. 1,000 of them are offered to a real man, who is capable and willing to coach our Dorval Juvenile Hockey team. The candidates for this post should contact Mr. G. Webster, Chairman of our Hockey Committee at ME-1-6613. Steinberg's will again sponsor our Juvenile Hockey team.

Anyone interested in volunteering for coaching, managing, or refereeing, should contact J. Conboy, 254 Wright Crescent, ME 1-8658, at once.

Any boys in Pine Beach North, who have not registered yet, should contact G. Fortier at 212 Wilshire.

A registration day will be held for the boys in Pine Beach South within the next few weeks, providing someone volunteers to help with the coaching and managing.

All boys under 18 years of age at the end of July 1960 who are interested in making the team should also get in touch with Mr. Webster and please contact him right now.

DORVAL EAST HOCKEY REGISTRATION

MEET BERNARD LARUE

MR. LARUE was born and educated in Ville St. Pierre, Que. He is married and has one son.

A large grocery chain store in Montreal was the training centre for Mr. Larue. He spent ten years with this firm and during that time he became well versed in the grocery business.

Mr. Larue then joined the staff of our "oldest provisions and meat store" and over the period of the last ten years has become a very well known figure.

He has the responsibility of choosing the fruit and vegetables for the store and is always on the alert for new items in the grocery trade. He prides himself on securing nothing but the best and freshest fruits and vegetables for his customers.

Mr. Larue also directs the operations of the Store's personnel and if there are any complaints, he is there to investigate and clear them up to the customers' satisfaction.

CHAMBRE 110 AT COMEDIF CANADIENNE

It is unfortunate that we did not see "Chambre 110", M. Jacques Bobet's award winning play as it was presented at the Drama Festival here last year. When I interviewed M. Bobet about his play he told me: "It is about chauvinism". He was quite explicit in saying that, though its title might be suggestive, it was not a bedroom farce; but a rollicking farce is just what it has become in the hands of the Comedie Canadienne.

This review is not an estimate of the serious play conceived by M. Bobet; we are sure that much of his subtlety has been lost in the present interpretation. Nonetheless the farce we are now reviewing gave the audience a hilarious evening.

Against a highly stylized set designed by Jean-Marc Hibert, revealing a pleasing combination of colour in shades of blue and tan, the walls of Room 110 were but a screen before a gaily impressionistic view of the Laurentians which formed a high backdrop. When the curtain rose on Act One the fourth wall was down in the form of curtains drawn across a picture window. This "window" was used effectively and dramatically throughout the production.

A Laurentian hotel keeper has assigned two families to the same room, One French, one English. When the French ladies meet the English gentlemen, the possibilities for comedy are endless, but in the midst of the farce the author has some quite pointed things to say about how we French and English get along generally. He relegates French-English differences to a dispute over the texture of one small hotel room; and manages to make us Quebecers look pretty ridiculous.

Lise LaSalle, petite, piquante, and all that any man could desire in a French gal, was a perfect foil for Pierre Theriault, as the young English Canadian, Peter O'Brien. Germaine Giroux knows how to make the most of her ample but chicly-clad figure for comic effect; her facial expressions alone are worth the price of admission. Roland Kinsman was excellent as the rigid James O'Brien; it would take an Englishman to play such a part among such a supple, volatile group of actors. Our neighbour, whose native language is French, said that his accent was excellent, but that "he spoke too slowly for her to catch all he said".

It is not only the speed with which these actors speak and move which makes them so entrancing for an English Canadian to watch. Their perfect co-ordination of speech with movement lend punch to a line or an exit, their lithe body movements in which they employ every muscle from head to toe in the delivery of a single funny line, their use of every inch of the stage in a crazy, graceful but always perfectly coordinated dance, combined to make this play a visual delight, even though we were handicapped by some deficiency in the French language.

"UNDER MILKWOOD" ARENA STYLE

College students are scholastically atune; to poetry based on intellectual imagery; they are flexible enough to see the possibilities of translating one art form into another; they possess, moreover, that youthful sense of humour which can project earthiness with the bounce and joyousness of spirit which it deserves. The McGill Players chose well, therefore, when they decided to present Dylan Thomas' poem "Under Milk Wood".

"Under Milk Wood" is a descriptive poem, originally written as a radio script for the B.B.C. It records in intimate detail, in telescopic and vivid metaphor twenty-four hours under the skin of a small Welsh coastal village. An omniscient narrator parades the village characters in motley succession before our eyes, revealing their outward oddities and inmost desires.

Under the knowing direction of Mr. Stewart Baker, the Players Club adapted the radio script to an arena style production. One could sense Mr. Baker's background as a film director, for the little vignettes appeared as closeups on a screen, cleverly lighted for a brief moment, fading into darkness as a new scene unfolded before our eyes. Excellent use was made by the players of four exits and the cueing of this continuous parade was flawless.

Heightened appreciation for the rhythm of the production would have been realized, however, if the participants had made fuller use of the entire stage. We should have liked to watched the voluptuous Polly Garter, wistfully played by Sylvia Bank, wash the floor with a swirling motion, her own sinuous body tracing a great figure of eight pattern across the entire stage. Only a third of the audience was able to appreciate Polly.

Allan Shiach, as the Narrator, used his excellent voice control together with his nearly flawless diction to project a keen intellectual appreciation of Dylan Thomas' poetry. The Reverend Eli Jenkins, played by Jocelyn Boyle, has a fine feeling for dialect and an unusual vocal range, whose potential is yet to be realized. Jocelyn Kinsman, as Mrs. Ogmore Pritchard gave a starchy performance as a man-eating, house-proud woman, while Mr. and Mrs. Pugh, played by Gwyneth MacKenzie and Bob Moore, sketched a picture of poisoned domesticity.

It is perhaps the responsibility of young intellectuals to keep Dylan Thomas alive to those who can appreciate him. This responsibility could hardly have fallen into more capable hands than those of the McGill Players Club.

INTELLIGENCE FOR THE INTELLIGENTSIA

Did you see the artist's sketch of Dorvalite Linda Randall, recumbent centre stage in the arms of Robin Lake in Saturday's Star? She plays Ann Whitefield in Shaw's "Man and Superman", the McGill University Department of English production, running tonight, Friday and Saturday in Moyses Hall.

BAZAAR OF THE YEAR RECEIVES ACCLAIM

"This unusual and outstanding Bazaar is a real contribution to the cultural life of the community" said Mayor John Pratt M.P., when he officially opened the Lakeshore Bazaar-of-the-Year recently at the Edgewater Hotel in Pointe Claire. Mayor Pratt went on to compliment the Unitarians for their ingenuity and hard work in organising such an event which included a wide variety of attractions and art displays. He welcomed the relatively new Unitarian Congregation of Pointe Claire to the Lakeshore and praised their efforts and the work of all other churches in this area in making the Lakeshore a fine place to live and bring up children.

Mrs. J. R. Mackay, chairman of the Bazaar, thanked Mayor Pratt for his generous remarks. She expressed thanks for the many gift contributions of various organisations and for the help of some 30 non-members of the church who generously gave of their time and talent in making the bazaar a success. 80 Unitarian church members have literally worked night and day in preparing materials for sale, setting up the booths and then helping at the bazaar.

Mr. C. D. H. Stevens, Bazaar Director, reported after the event a net sale of about $1,800. He said this does not include the money made from the sale of handicrafts by the Veterans of the Senneville, which will be used by them in their good works. Mr. Stevens said the only complaint he heard was from the Edgewater's Maitre d'Hotel, who said they wouldn't let him on the carousel.

WITHDRAWAL FROM Q.A.H.A.

At their last meeting, the City of Dorval Hockey Committee has decided to withdraw from the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association for the coming season.

However the hockey activities for the winter 60-61 will be governed by the rules and regulations of the above mentioned Association so that, should our group affiliate again with the Q.A.H.A., no drastic change in the organization will be required.

A central registry will be kept at our Department of Parks and Recreation in order to minimize effort and save time for inquiry purposes, whether it be for the age of the players or the association for which they played.

The general pictures of organization will remain the same, Dorval East, Windsor Gardens, Pineval East, Windsor Gardens, Pineval Bench, Courtland and Strathmore Associations each one entering one team in the City wide or inter-league for Mosquito, Pee Wee and Bantam categories. Additional teams of same categories will be operating closer to home, on a house league basis.

MIDGETS

Even though a certain switch of interest seems to affect the Midget group - 14 to 16 years of age, it is considered a "must" that as many of them as possible do take part in hockey. For this particular reason all associations will endeavour to form and sponsor a Midget hockey team.

All boys of that age group are asked to contact the Sports Director of their local association.

In the junior division, badminton started for the youngsters last November 19, and will continue on Saturday afternoons in the gym at Dorval Gardens School. The African nations want support from the other nations of the world. Nigeria wants to remain as part of the Commonwealth, and feels that the best contribution to the world can be made within this union.
