ABOUT THE GREENLINING INSTITUTE

“THE GREENLINING INSTITUTE OFTEN SAYS WHAT OTHER NONPROFITS ONLY THINK.”

–THE NONPROFIT QUARTERLY

Founded in 1993, The Greenlining Institute envisions a nation where communities of color thrive and race is never a barrier to economic opportunity. Because people of color will be the majority of our population by 2044, America will prosper only if communities of color prosper. Greenlining advances economic opportunity and empowerment for people of color across the nation through advocacy; community and coalition building; research; and leadership development. Greenlining works to increase the health and wealth of people of color by targeting five major sectors of the economy: Financial Services, the Green Economy, Energy, Health, and Technology. We also train emerging leaders to advocate for equity and justice in their careers through our nationally recognized Leadership Academy programs. Greenlining has a bold, progressive and team-oriented culture and is deeply committed to upholding a diverse, equitable and inclusive work environment for all.

Headquartered in California, Greenlining’s approach focuses on bringing grassroots community leaders face to face with leading public and private sector leaders. We design and support policies to open doors to opportunity. We don’t see these interactions as a zero-sum game in which one side must win and the other must lose. Instead, we reach for win-win solutions that expand the size of the pie for all Americans. For more information, visit us online at greenlining.org.
