

NEED A QUALITY AFTER SCHOOL ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM?

Studio On The Go (formerly Bangtown Studios) is a federally recognized 501c3 non-profit organization that offers mobile technology and engineering programs for after school and summer programs. Since 2006 we have fostered the musical talents of more than 3000 students in over 60 school and community program locations. We have made a significant impact by assisting underserved students.

Our educational blended learning programs offer hands on opportunities for students to explore their creative gifts and abilities. Through our curriculum and programming students will learn basic music, film, video, broadcast/journalism technology and social media skills that can lead to a fruitful future or career.

Studio On The Go students learn how to write and compose music, operate and play musical instruments and equipment through creative musical expressions as a team.

Radio On The Go provides a powerful resource to prepare your students for the airwave of internet careers and entrepreneurial trends. Students host and 'work' their own online school radio show and collaborate by sharing; voices, music and messages.

Photography On The Go has expanded to include video production and photography courses that will teach youth the ins and outs of creative photo shoots as well as some a film and video.
