New Football Official Starting Out Guide

Joining a football officiating crew offers a rewarding experience that extends beyond the game itself. As an official, you have the unique opportunity to give back to the community while earning additional income. This role imparts essential life skills such as discipline, teamwork, and integrity while also fostering camaraderie among the officiating crew. Together, you will create lasting bonds, ensure the game is played fairly and safely, and contribute to the growth and success of both the sport and its players.

The learning curve can be steep if you've never officiated a football game. As you embark on this journey, never hesitate to ask a fellow official any questions, regardless of how basic they may seem. Save your questions for an appropriate moment. We learn by doing and improve each other!

Below, you will find a list of items you need to be successful. If you are starting on the Auxiliary team by working the clock or chain crew, you only need the items listed under the "Auxiliary Crew Uniform" section. If you plan to officiate games this season, you will need the items listed under the "Football Official Uniform" section. There are many online options for purchasing equipment, with some websites offering complete sets of uniform pieces and equipment. Be a discerning consumer and shop around, as prices vary between websites. Using Smitty's brand shirts is recommended for their superior quality. A list of stores that cater to sports officials is provided.

Lastly, keep track of all your receipts so you can deduct your expenses from your earnings, saving you money when you file your tax return.

Scheduling

If you still need to do so, create an account at Arbitersports.com. This website is essential for managing the administrative functions you will encounter throughout the season. You will use it to sign up for the football season, block out days or partial days of availability, receive assignments, handle payroll, and access 1099 tax forms. Take some time to explore the website, and don't hesitate to ask any questions you may have.

Auxiliary Crew Uniform - See links at the end of this document.

- (1) Black Hat with White Piping
- (1) Solid Black Polo Shirt—If you already have one, you are all set, and you needn't worry about the brand.
- (1) Solid Black Shorts If working auxiliary, any solid black shorts work that have belt loops. If you plan on officiating on the field, you may consider investing in solid black officials shorts.
- (1) Black Belt If planning on officiating on the field. The belt should be approximately 1-3/4" to 2" wide.

- (1) pair of Black Socks If you are wearing shorts, your socks should be "ankle" height. If you are wearing pants, wear "crew" height socks.
- (1) Black undershirt. Feel free to wear black cotton or a black moisture-wicking undershirt.
- Shoes Black or Black with a white accent. To start, any black shoes will work.
- (1) Black Pants for Cold Weather. Any solid black pants will work. You can also wear black official pants with a white stripe.
- (1) Radio with an earpiece to listen to officiating crew communications.

Official Training

Here are the resources needed to get yourself onto the field:

- (1) Current NFHS Rule Book and Case Book Ask your Crew Chief if he has any extras, or you can purchase them online. Everything you need to know can be found in these two books.
- Mechanics Guide http://www.snoaofficials.com/pdf/manuals/footballmechanicsrev0.pdf
- Clock Management Youtube Video:
