

Startling Facts For People Who Think of Chiropractic as a Last Resort.

Contrary to popular opinion, a number of life's common ailments are not normal.

Take the "common" headache. It's the body's way of telling you that some-thing's wrong.

Or monthly cramps. The symptoms of structural or chemical disorders most women "learn to live with." The solution is to optimize the body's function.

Almost 75% of all prescription drugs are dispensed to relieve pain. Relieving pain just masks the true problem.

The Doctor of Chiropractic is recognized as the expert at diagnosing and treating the source of life's "common" ailments, not the symptoms.

Today's Doctor of Chiropractic is the specialist at keeping all the body parts running like a well-oiled machine. And chiropractic uses no drugs or surgery, only the body's own self-healing powers.

It's an approach that is supported by many of the latest findings in healthcare research.

So do yourself a favor. Seek out a UCA Doctor of Chiropractic. Go in for an initial examination. Listen. What you hear may be a real eye-opener.
