

"I SERVE QUIETLY, WITHOUT RECOGNITION OR ACCOLADES..."

Brian E. Gould (USA SF, Ret.) served in the U.S Army and U.S. Army Special Forces for over two (2) decades. MSG Gould served in the Infantry and then the US Special Forces to include the Commanders In-Extremist Force in Europe. During his military career, MSG Gould was engaged in the Eastern European, Middle Eastern, and African theaters as part of U.S. ongoing missions and military operations. MSG Gould specialized in Unconventional Warfare, Demolitions, Small Unit Tactics, Close Quarters Combat, and Sniper operation.

After retiring, Mr. Gould worked as a Senior Strategic Planner at Special Operations Command, Central Command at MacDill AFB, Florida and then as Director of Special Projects at the International Institute for Homeland Security, Defense and Restoration in Washington, D.C. Mr. Gould used his extensive knowledge of international military, political, and economic situations gained during his service to provide critical insight to government and private sector organizations. Mr. Gould is currently the President of Applied Solutions Consulting, LLC (ASC), a veteran owned small business based in Florida.

Mr. Gould currently specializes in providing advisory and consulting services for international reconstruction and development projects, stability operations, and international commercial development. His current focus is international economic and infrastructure reform, to include critical infrastructure, political structure and financial structure and how these functions affect international business.

Mr. Gould is an active member of several local, national, and international organizations, including Special Ops OPSEC, the Tampa Bay Committee on Foreign Relations, The Global SOF Foundation, National Defense Industry Association (NDIA), Armed Forces Communications Electronic Association (AFCEA), and the U.S. Global Leadership Coalition as a Veteran for Smart Power.
