Giza Pyramid Correlation

The following are Illustrated sacred geometric connections that appear to exist at certain key locations of Royal prominence in the city of London and its surroundings. It is London that truly pays homage to at least 2 prominent Angles that are situated at key location as the charts will attempt to approximate and illustrate. The city of London is riddled with a spectacular array of pentagrams, owls, pyramids, serpents, towers, masonic symbology of square and compass, hexagrams, etc. What is of particularly significance is that such alignments correspond to the Royal Residences of the British Monarchy. Does all these hidden alignments depict who really controls the Monarchy?
