ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

JEFFREY S. HUDSON, M.ED, LPC, CGP, FAGPA. Jeff Hudson's group leadership is guided by a belief that our clients can unconsciously know what we are open to experiencing emotionally and what we are reluctant to experience. He is a strong proponent of group membership as a component of a therapist's professional and personal growth. Jeff is a group psychotherapist in private practice in Austin, Texas. He is a former President of the Austin Group Psychotherapy Society and has served two terms on its Board of Directors. Jeff is currently the Vice Chairman of the Group Foundation for Advancing Mental Health and is a Fellow of the American Group Psychotherapy Association (AGPA). In 2007, Jeff co-founded AGPA's first local fund-raising committee to provide scholarships to the AGPA Annual Meeting. A frequent presenter on group treatment at the local and national level, Jeff maintains an active group practice that includes both solo and co-leadership of therapy and training groups. One of his ongoing training groups meets in Nashville, Tennessee.

WORKSHOP OBJECTIVES

1. Discuss the influence of personal history on the group leader's emotional availability
2. List three common sources of countertransference resistance
3. Name three patient fears that impede emotional intimacy
4. Define emotional availability
