- Phenolic, G-10, Fiberglass Shapes, GPO Materials, Noryl®

EZsleeve™ Elevator Jack Sleeve

The smart choice for elevator jack shaft protection.

Easy Installation

- Custom fabricated to your specifications
- One-piece design slides over the jack shaft
- No gluing, wrapping, or coating

Less Maintenance

- Self-contained, continuous liner prevents leakage of oil or other contaminants
- Chemically resistant polymer will not corrode
- Repairs are simple and inexpensive, no stripping
- Will not peel, delaminate, or react to thermal fluctuations

It's Safe

- No dangerous solvents or harsh epoxy fumes
- Light weight and compact vs. heavy PVC pipes

Plastic Sheets

- AIN Plastics carries a full line of flame rated and abrasion and graffiti resistant materials
- Polycarbonate
- ACRYLITE® EndLighten acrylic sheet performs uniform illumination and conceals light sources such as LED lighting inside the frame
- Wood and granite finish sheet

Vinyl Louvers and Lenses

Grid style light diffuser manufactured from favorable fire and building code rated, translucent white, PVC material.

- Closed-cell design is excellent in applications where you wish to conceal internal hardware, electrical components, or any unfinished areas from view. Ideal louver for elevators!
- CLASS 1 Material, approved for use by strict building code Authorities and has an "EXCELLENT" rating in Fire Hazard Tests.
- Multi-celled panels whose design results in a strong, light-weight panel, free from sagging.
- High efficiency, light weight, safe and attractive louvers are ideal for luminous ceiling applications, especially where code requires the use of non-flame spread products.
