Factors Influencing Afro-Caribbean Immigrant Health

Contribution of Internalized Racial Stigma to Health Disparities in Black Peoples

Tull ES, Chambers EC. Internalized racism is associated with glucose intolerance among black Americans in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Diabetes Care 2001; 24:1498.

Assessment of the Elevated Heart Disease Risk in Caribbean Hispanic Persons

Assessment of Factors Contributing to Increasing Incidence of Diabetes in Afro-Caribbean Children

